The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Data Analysis Uwe Flick, 2013-12-18 The wide range of approaches to data analysis in qualitative research can seem daunting even for experienced researchers This handbook is the first to provide a state of the art overview of the whole field of QDA from general analytic strategies used in qualitative research to approaches specific to particular types of qualitative data including talk text sounds images and virtual data The handbook includes chapters on traditional analytic strategies such as grounded theory content analysis hermeneutics phenomenology and narrative analysis as well as coverage of newer trends like mixed methods reanalysis and meta analysis Practical aspects such as sampling transcription working collaboratively writing and implementation are given close attention as are theory and theorization reflexivity and ethics Written by a team of experts in qualitative research from around the world this handbook is an essential compendium for all qualitative researchers and students across the social sciences The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Research in Psychology Carla Willig, Wendy Stainton Rogers, 2017-03-31 One of our bestselling handbooks The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Research in Psychology is back for a second edition Since the first edition qualitative research in psychology has been transformed Responding to this existing chapters have been updated and three new chapters introduced on Thematic Analysis Interpretation and Netnography With a focus on methodological progress throughout the chapters are organised into three sections Section One Methods Section Two Perspectives and Techniques Section Three Applications In the field of psychology and beyond this handbook will constitute a valuable resource for both experienced qualitative researchers and novices for many years to come Negotiating the Complexities of Qualitative Research in Higher Education Susan R. Jones, Vasti Torres, Jan Arminio, 2021-12-22 Negotiating the Complexities of Qualitative Research in Higher Education illuminates the complex nature of qualitative research while attending to issues of application. This text addresses the essentials of research through discussion of strategies, ethical issues, and challenges in higher education. In addition to walking through the methodological steps, this text considers the conceptual reasons behind qualitative research and explores how to conduct qualitative research that is rigorous, thoughtful, and theoretically coherent. Seasoned researchers Jones, Torres, and Arminio combine high-level theory with practical applications and examples showing how research in higher education can produce improved learning outcomes for students, especially those who have been historically marginalized. This book will help students in higher education graduate programs to cultivate an appreciation for the complexity and ambiguity of the research and the ways to think through questions and tensions that emerge in the process. New in This Edition: Emphasis on participant representation and researcher reflexivity and positionality. Additional conceptual frameworks that ground qualitative work in higher education and analyze power to reveal structural inequities. A wider array of approaches including Participatory Action Research, Critical Discourse Analysis, and visual methodologies and methods. A new chapter on writing that covers getting started, writing as analysis, writing to capture complexity, and positioning oneself in writing. Updated citations and content throughout to reflect the newest thinking and scholarship. New end-of-chapter discussion questions and activities to bolster accessibility of theory and help instructors support students' work on their course research projects.

Peacebuilding, Citizenship, and Identity Christina Parker, 2015-12-17. As communities around the world continue to attract international immigrants, schools have become centers for learning how to engage with people's multiple ethnic and cultural origins. Ethnocultural minority immigrant students carry diverse histories and perspectives which can serve as resources for critical reflection about social conflicts. These students' identities need to be included in the curriculum so that diversity and conflictual issues can be openly discussed. Immigrant children embody the many issues confronting today's youth in a global, transnational, and interconnected world. Drawing on in-depth empirical case studies, this book explores the classroom experiences of these children. Varying in social and cultural capital, they contend with social and cultural conflict influenced not only by global politics and familial prejudices but also by structural exclusion in Western curricula. In democratic peacebuilding education, diverse students express divergent points of view in open, inclusive dialogue. Negotiating their multiple identities, such children develop skills for managing and responding to that conflict, thereby acquiring tools to challenge dominant hegemonic systems of oppression and control later in life. In vivid classroom depictions, the reader learns of many outcomes. Young, quiet, and marginalized voices were heard. Dialogic pedagogies encouraged cooperation among students and strengthened class communities. What is more, the implicit and explicit curricula implemented in these diverse classrooms served to shape how students interpreted democracy in multicultural Canada. The diverse experiences of the young people and teachers in this book illuminate the innermost landscapes of multicultural classrooms, providing deep insight into the social and cultural challenges and opportunities that ethnocultural minority children experience at school Festschrift in Honour of Kathy Charmaz Antony Bryant, Adele E. Clarke, 2022-11-14 This Festschrift to honour Kathy Charmaz's scholarship features fourteen chapters plus an editor's introduction exploring CGT extensively examining topics including Indigenization of the method its approaches to decolonizing research uses of CGT in social justice research and the legacies of Kathy Charmaz's remarkable mentorship

Higher Education Internationalization and English Language Instruction Xiangying Huo, 2020-11-07 This book offers new understanding of the implications of pluralism and of transnational movements to higher education and the construct of a native speaker within contemporary globalization processes Theoretically it calls for a revisioned English as an International Language EIL pedagogy and a wider acceptance of EIL and of World Englishes It challenges the postsecondary education sector to change the discourse around language proficiency to one that engages the pluralism of English As for the applied significance the book contributes to the work on neo racism which means racism goes beyond color to stereotypic foreign cultures nationalities and exotic accents based on cultural distinctions instead of merely skin differences The book contributes to higher education policy and practice pushing a revisioning of ESL in conceptual and pedagogical ways such as designing more culturally oriented curriculum implementing culturally responsive pedagogy and valuing the teaching proficiency more than the language proficiency

Doing Autoethnography Sandra L. Pensoneau-Conway, Tony E. Adams, Derek M. Bolen, 2017-09-12 In 2011 Doing Autoethnography the first conference to focus solely on autoethnographic principles and practices was held in chilly Detroit Michigan on the campus of Wayne State University The conference has since occurred four additional times 2013 2014 2015 2016 Across the five conferences thousands of attendees from more than ten countries have participated in hundreds of presentations more than a dozen workshops and multiple keynote addresses The chapters in this collection represent outstanding work from the five conferences Together authors interrogate autoethnography ethically theoretically relationally and methodologically Readers will encounter many overlapping themes identity norms and negotiations experiences tied to race gender sexuality size citizenship and disability exclusion and belonging oppression injustice and assault barriers to learning education and living with in complicated relationships Some chapters provide clear resolutions others seemingly provide none Some authors highlight conventionally positive aspects of experience others dwell in what might be understood as relational darkness Some experiences will likely resonate with many readers others will feel unique unusual exceptional In its entirety the collection will take readers on an evocative reflexive and insightful journey

Doing Respectful Research Susan Tilley, 2019-01-14T00:00:00Z Doing Respectful Research is situated within a critical feminist postmodern framework and addresses the complexities of conducting respectful qualitative research with human participants Three themes overlap and inform chapter discussions developing a critical reflexivity understanding the distance dynamic and engaging in respectful research praxis The text illustrates how power privilege and passion influence decisions about what gets researched who is positioned as researcher or participant and how data are collected analyzed and ultimately represented in public ways Tilley explores the intersecting elements of the research process which include deciding on a research focus and articulating research questions choosing an appropriate research site and participants collecting analyzing and representing data and making decisions about the dissemination and publication of findings She emphasizes the dilemmas researchers experience when faced with issues of respectful representation of data participants and research contexts Unique to the book are the comprehensive discussions of the advisement process and the student advisor relationship and Tilley's use of her doctoral research to carefully illustrate elements of the research process Each chapter ends with an annotated bibliography of relevant research connected to concepts addressed in the chapter Tilley offers a comprehensive consideration of research ethics including guidance for the completion of institutional requirements for review of research involving human participants and an exploration of the complicated ethical issues that emerge during the research process Doing Respectful Research is written for student researchers individuals who teach and advise students instructors of qualitative research courses in social sciences health and education and community members interested in qualitative methods and conducting research Unity from

Diversity Ray W. Cooksey, 2024-07-15 This book is about the choices that researchers can make when building knowledge in social and behavioural spaces Knowledge is the unity we seek and given that social and behavioural research is a human endeavour focusing on human lives and experiences there are diverse and ever evolving pathways towards achieving that unity Any one pathway will only ever yield partial glimpses into human life and diversity of potential choices serves to enrich expand and enlarge those glimpses in pursuit of more complete understanding The book shows that researchers and the researched are far more connected than disconnected in this world and those connections are spread out through a network of interlinked complex systems The book argues that pluralist systemic thinking provides the means by which a researcher's methodological choices for navigating the Data Triangle comprising data source data gathering and data analysis strategies and the learning they provide can be fully and robustly contextualised with respect to those systems and the expectations and influences that emerge from them Such contextualisations facilitate the refinement augmentation and or narrowing of those choices during the researcher's journey Anticipating choices downstream may have implications for more immediate choices and more immediate choices may create a cascade of necessary downstream choices An essential part of contextualisation involves making choices about patterns of guiding assumptions modes of knowledge building and research frames Researchers must develop the capacity to be flexible and adapt to unanticipated emergent events obstacles and political influences making trade offs where necessary throughout their research journey always with an eye on both feasibility and quality Importantly research has no meaning unless the researcher can ensure that it connects with intended audiences via specific research outcomes especially since the ultimate judgments about the convincingness meaningfulness quality and utility of the research are vested in those audiences Throughout the book special attention is devoted to the role s that stakeholders and gatekeepers play in shaping the researcher s journey as well as to what can be learned from Indigenous First Nations perspectives on social and behavioural research Rethinking Practice, Research and Education Kevin J. Flint, 2015-02-26 Rethinking Practice Research and Education brings together philosophy with traditional methodological discourse and opens a space for critical thinking in social and educational research Drawing on the work of Heidegger Derrida Foucault and their descendants this engaging critical examination of practice applies a deconstructive reading to the practices of research Where is justice in the practice of research How do paradigms for the production of knowledge shape what is given in the practice of research What are the key issues involved in developing an ethos for the practice of research in the light of society s complex relationship with essential forms of technology Each of these dimensions are explored drawing on the traditions of research and their interplay with researchers responsibilities to work towards justice in research A must read for researchers bringing the language of philosophy to the current debate about the impact of social and educational research in practice
