Teaching and Learning Argumentative Writing in High School English Language Arts Classrooms George E. Newell, David Bloome, Alan Hirvela, 2015-06-05 Focused on the teaching and learning argumentative writing in grades 9-12, this important contribution to literacy education research and classroom practice offers a new perspective, a set of principled practices, and case studies of excellent teaching. The case studies illustrate teaching and learning argumentative writing as the construction of knowledge and new understandings about experiences, ideas, and texts. Six themes key to teaching argumentative writing as a thoughtful, multi-leveled practice for deep learning and expression are presented: teaching and learning argumentative writing as social practice; teachers' epistemological beliefs about argumentative writing; variations in instructional chains; instructional conversations in support of argumentative writing; deep learning and appreciation of multiple perspectives; contextualized analysis of argumentative writing and the teaching and learning of argumentative writing and the construction of rationalities. State of Wisconsin Title I ESEA Evaluation Report ... Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, 1978. Advances in Human Factors in Training, Education, and Learning Sciences Salman Nazir, Tareq Ahram, Waldemar Karwowski, 2020-06-30 This book addresses the importance of human factors in optimizing the learning and training process. It reports on the latest research and best practices and discusses key principles of behavioral and cognitive science which are extremely relevant to the design of instructional content and new technologies to support mobile and multimedia learning, virtual training, and web-based learning, among others, as well as performance measurements, social and adaptive learning, and many other types of educational technology, with a special emphasis on those important in the corporate, higher education, healthcare, and military training contexts. Gathering contributions to the AHFE 2020 Virtual Conference on Human Factors in Training, Education, and Learning Sciences held on July 16-20, 2020, the book offers a timely perspective on the role of human factors in education. It highlights important new approaches and ideas and fosters new discussions on how to optimally design learning experiences. Health Literacy and School-Based Health Education Ray Marks, 2012-11-02 Examines the relationship between health literacy and health outcomes and the role of schools in promoting health literacy through the curriculum. This volume utilizes research, literature reviews, and case studies that examine how education can support health literacy development as a vital 21st-century citizenship competency. Preparing Students for Community-Engaged Scholarship in Higher Education Zimmerman, Aaron Samuel, 2020-02-01 Community-engaged scholarship is an equitable and democratic approach to scholarship that seeks to identify and solve community-based problems. Community-engaged scholars aim to serve the public good by developing and sustaining community-campus partnerships built on trust, reciprocity, and mutual benefit. As universities orient themselves towards serving the public good, they face a number of challenges: faculty and students may not possess the competencies or commitment to build fruitful community partnerships; graduate and undergraduate students may lack the necessary training and mentorship required to develop their identity as community engaged scholars and institutional leaders may not know how to motivate faculty and students for this ambitious and challenging endeavor Unless these challenges are addressed universities will fail to prepare the next generation of community engaged scholars Preparing Students for Community Engaged Scholarship in Higher Education is an essential research book that explores how faculty and academic leaders can create learning opportunities and intellectual cultures that support the development of community engaged scholars Additionally it will examine how university coursework can help undergraduate and graduate students to develop the knowledge skills and commitments necessary for productive and responsible community engaged scholarship Featuring a range of topics such as mentorship higher education and service learning this book is ideal for higher education faculty university leaders deans chairs educators administrators policymakers curriculum designers academicians researchers and students Federal Register
