Legal guide on school food and nutrition Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2020-07-01 A solid international consensus has emerged on the importance of nutrition for children's development and well-being. At the Second International Conference on Nutrition ICN2 the Member States of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations FAO and the World Health Organization WHO committed to developing policies, programmes and initiatives to ensure healthy diets throughout the children's life cycle, emphasizing the potential of schools as platforms for integrated action. This Guide promotes a holistic and human rights-based approach to school food and nutrition in which legislation is an indispensable tool to ensure the sustainability of public policy goals set by a country. In light of international law and standards, it provides practical information and guidance to develop or strengthen national legislation to improve food security and nutrition in schools as well as community development. The Guide presents a range of regulatory options and legislative examples of state practice that may contribute to building sound and coherent legal frameworks for school food and nutrition. It is a useful resource for law practitioners, policymakers, parliamentarians and all actors who are involved in the design, implementation or monitoring of school programmes and policies and most particularly for those interested in taking legislative action, law-making or law reform.

The Routledge International Handbook of the Crimes of the Powerful Gregg Barak, 2015-06-05 Across the world, most people are well aware of ordinary criminal harms to person and property. Often committed by the powerless and poor, these individualized crimes are catalogued in the statistics collected annually by the FBI and by similar agencies in other developed nations In contrast the more harmful and systemic forms of injury to person and property committed by powerful and wealthy individuals groups and national states are neither calculated by governmental agencies nor annually reported by the mass media As a result most citizens of the world are unaware of the routinized crimes of the powerful even though they are more likely to experience harms and injuries from these types of organized offenses than they are from the atomized offenses of the powerless Research on the crimes of the powerful brings together several areas of criminological focus involving organizational and institutional networks of powerful people that commit crimes against workers marketplaces taxpayers and political systems as well as acts of torture terrorism and genocide This international handbook offers a comprehensive authoritative and structural synthesis of these interrelated topics of criminological concern It also explains why the crimes of the powerful are so difficult to control Edited by internationally acclaimed criminologist Gregg Barak this book reflects the state of the art of scholarly research covering all the key areas including corporate global environmental and state crimes The handbook is a perfect resource for students and researchers engaged with explaining and controlling the crimes of the powerful domestically and internationally

Implementing school food and nutrition policies, 2021-09-14 Schools play an important role in promoting healthy diets and good nutrition and can create an enabling environment for children. However, the school food environment is often not conducive to a healthy diet. To address this challenge and to support Member States in implementing policy measures as recommended by the Framework for Action from the 2014 Second International Conference on Nutrition, the World Health Organization (WHO) is in the process of developing evidence-informed policy guidelines on the food environment, including school food and nutrition interventions and policies, with a focus on five interventions and policies that influence the school food environment. These five include nutrition standards or rules, direct food provision, marketing restrictions, nudging interventions, and pricing policies. This review on contextual factors to be considered in the implementation of school food and nutrition policies was prepared as part of the required process for WHO guideline development. Code of Federal Regulations United States.
