School Report Cards Incentives:

Organizational Report Cards William T. Gormley Jr., David L. Weimer, 1999-03 In recent years consumers professional organizations government officials and third party payers have become increasingly concerned about how to assess the quality of the services provided by organizations in both the private and the public sectors One new approach is the organizational report card which compares the performance of organizations such as public schools colleges hospitals and HMOs This book offers the first comprehensive study of such instruments It discusses the circumstances under which they are desirable alternatives to other policy instruments such as regulation how they should be designed who is likely to use them and for what purpose and what role if any government should have in their creation Informed by cases drawn from education health and other policy areas this book develops a conceptual framework for analyzing these issues It explores the tradeoffs in measuring performance the methods of communicating results effectively to mass and elite audiences and the ways in which organizations respond to the data gathered Report Card on Washington's High Schools 2009 , Report Card on Ontario's Elementary School 2010 , Report Card on British Columbia's Elementary Schools 2010 , rigorous research approach the authors investigate charter schools in Washington D C carefully examining school data going back more than a decade interpreting scores of interviews with parents students and teachers and meticulously measuring how charter schools perform compared to traditional public schools Their conclusions are sobering Buckley and Schneider show that charter school students are not outperforming students in traditional public schools that the quality of charter school education varies widely from school to school and that parent enthusiasm for charter schools starts out strong but fades over time And they argue that while charter schools may meet the most basic test of sound public policy they do no harm the evidence suggests they all too often fall short of advocates claims With the future of charter schools and perhaps public education as a whole hanging in the balance this book supports the case for holding charter schools more accountable and brings us considerably nearer to resolving this contentious debate Los Angeles School Journal ,1929 American Journal of Education ,1903 EBOOK: Introduction to Mass Communication: Media Literacy and Culture BARAN, STANLEY,2011-02-16 EBOOK Introduction to Mass Communication Media Literacy and Culture 401 Killer Marketing Tactics to Maximize Profits, Increase Sales and Stomp Your Competition Tom Feltenstein,2004-12-21 Surefire down and dirty guerrilla marketing tactics for businesses of all sizes Lottery ticket giveaways discounts for customers who rip competitors ads out of the yellow pages paying people to picket your store with signs proclaiming your low prices and great service These are just three of the hundreds of cheap surefire marketing tactics contained in 401 Killer Marketing Tactics to Increase Sales Maximize Profits and Stomp Your Competition Expert Tom Feltenstein arms you with a veritable encyclopedia of tested in the trenches marketing and promotional solutions This fully revised and updated edition of Feltenstein s acclaimed guide features Real world examples from dozens of Feltenstein clients including Disney Ben and Jerry s Texaco Coca Cola Hyatt and more An encyclopedia format designed for ready reference A different idea on each page and how to make it happen Accountability Policies in Education Christian Maroy,Xavier Pons,2019-01-09 This book addresses current changes of education policies in a context of globalisation It does so by focusing on the implementation of performance based accountability policies in France and in Quebec Canada It questions the trajectory of these policies their mediations and their instrumentation in various territories and schools through a theoretical framework which combines a North American neo institutionalist approach with the perspective of the French sociologie de l action publique The book extends the current international literature on English speaking experiences of hard accountability to research on soft accountability policies and proposes a deep investigation in two highly contrasted education systems This investigation is multilevel and has led to field research both in schools in intermediate authorities and in central administrations for three years The research presented in the book addresses the international literature on accountability in public administration and in education the current transformations of governance in education as well as the forms taken by the globalisation of education policies in countries differently exposed to international influences The comparison highlights a convergent neo statist trajectory of the performance based accountability policy in the two countries various forms of governance by results enacted at the local and meso level and more intense impacts of these policies on schools and teacher s practices in Quebec than in France
