Erasmus, 2017-08-30 Three tensions to consider in the making and unmaking of race In Race Otherwise Forging a New Humanism for South Africa Zimitri Erasmus questions the notion that one can know race with one's eyes or through racial categories and or genetic ancestry tests She moves between the intimate probing of racial identities as we experience them individually and analysis of the global historical forces that have created these identities and woven them into our thinking about what it means to be human Starting from her own family's journeys through regions of the world and ascribed racial identities she develops her argument about how it is possible to recognize the pervasiveness of race thinking without submitting to its power Drawing on the theoretical work of Frantz Fanon Sylvia Wynter and others Erasmus argues for a new way of coming to know otherwise of seeing the boundaries between racial identities as thresholds to be crossed through politically charged acts of imagination and love Non-racialism in South Africa Allan Zinn, 2016-08-14 At the time of his death in August 2012 Neville Alexander was undoubtedly one of South Africa's foremost proponents of the philosophy of non racialism He had devoted his life to fighting against the evils of racism sexism and economic injustice He understood how these social realities not only divided but also ranked human beings in terms of human worth and value He saw how these realities diminished the whole society both the perpetrators and victims And so he gave over his life as a scholar and a political activist to challenging these realities This volume brings together the reflections of a group of activists and scholars on the significance of Neville Alexander to the cause of freedom and justice in South Africa The reflections are essentially the keynote speeches and the responses to them that were made at a conference in Alexander's honour held at the Centre for Non Racialism and Democracy at the Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University in July 2013 Disha Olympiad Champs
