Vocationalisation of Secondary Education Revisited Jon Lauglo,R. Maclean,2005-05-12 The book is a cutting edge contribution to the debate which has occurred for some time on the pros and cons of secondary education becoming more closely and explicitly related to preparing young people for the world of work The book provides concrete examples of the vocationalisation of secondary education with particular reference to the situation in Africa The book appears in the Springer book series on Technical and Vocational Education and Training Issues Concerns and Prospects and complements the International Handbook of Technical and Vocational Education and Training and other publications in the International Library of TVET all of which are publications of the UNESCO UNEVOC International Centre for TVET in Bonn Germany

Air Pollution - 1968, Hearings Before the Subcommittee on Air and Water Pollution ... United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Public Works,1968 Dilemmas of Culture in African Schools Cati Coe,2005-11 In working to build a sense of nationhood Ghana has focused on many social engineering projects the most meaningful and fascinating of which has been the state s effort to create a national culture through its schools As Cati Coe reveals in Dilemmas of Culture in African Schools this effort has created an unusual paradox while Ghana encourages its educators to teach about local cultural traditions those traditions are transformed as they are taught in school classrooms The state version of culture now taught by educators has become objectified and nationalized vastly different from local traditions Coe identifies the state s limitations in teaching cultural knowledge and discusses how Ghanaians negotiate the tensions raised by the competing visions of modernity that nationalism and Christianity have created She reveals how cultural curricula affect authority relations in local social organizations between teachers and students between Christians and national elite and between children and elders and raises several questions about educational processes state society relations the production of knowledge and the making of Ghana's citizenry English Mechanic and Mirror of Science and Art ,1872 Educational Research: a Beginner's Guide Allyson Sesay,2012-01-04 This book presents a rudimentary exposure to the field of educational research and an attempt to allay the unwarranted fear of those who perceive research as a highly technical and complex scholarly activity carried out by persons in the sciences The author takes the position that anyone can do research and that it can be an interesting and very worthwhile experience Educational research particularly action research which the author emphasizes is an invaluable exercise about which everyone in education should be knowledgeable or at least be familiar Starting with an explication of some salient concepts in the study of research e.g research educational research research problem v research topic hypothesis experimental v non experimental research the book takes the reader through the process of conducting a research problem from problem selection and statement significance review of literature methodology data analysis findings to recommendations and conclusions Detailed descriptions of the American Psychological Association APA style of referencing with ample examples are provided The book is written in simple language so that even high school students will be able to acquire a fairly good understanding of each contents Though the primary target population is undergraduate students of education the contents are broad enough to provide a guide for students in other disciplines as well as whet the appetite of the general reader who seeks only a basic knowledge of research and or educational research The Mirror Margaret Safo (Mrs.),2005-06-04 Journal of Development Alternatives and Area Studies ,2007 Teacher Education at the Edge Tonya Huber,James G.
