

How to Make Slime

Goal – To make messy, gooey slime to play with.

Ingredients

- 1 cup of corn starch.
- 3 drops of food dye.
- Water.

Equipment

- 1 large bowl.
- 1 jug.
- 1 cup.

Method

1. Pour the cornstarch into the bowl.
2. Add a small amount of water to the bowl, stirring continuously.
3. Continue adding water until the slime becomes a gooey texture.
4. Add the drops of food dye into the slime and continue to stir until the dye is evenly mixed in.
5. Allow the slime to set for 10-15 minutes.
6. Enjoy your slime!

Suggestion

Wear gloves when making your slime to prevent getting food dye on your hands.

Enabling Praxis, 2008-01-01 In a range of professions professional practice today is under threat It is endangered for example by pressures of bureaucratic control commodification marketization and the standardisation of practice in some professions In these times there is a need for deeper understandings of professional practice and how it develops through professional careers Enabling Praxis Challenges for education explores these questions in the context of initial and continuing professional education of teachers It presents a theory of the development of praxis morally committed action oriented by tradition to show the ways

praxis is enabled and constrained by the cultural discursive material and social political conditions under which professional practice occurs It introduces the notion of practice architectures to show how particular conditions for practice shape the possibilities of praxis The way these processes work is illustrated by detailed exploration of a number of cases of praxis development in a variety of educational settings at a variety of levels in teacher education for schools and for vocational education and training in the continuing professional education of teachers in educational administration and in informal community based education for sustainability initiatives The book provides conceptual resources that permit deeper analysis of the character conduct and consequences of professional practice It concludes with challenges for education and for initial and continuing teacher education suggesting that the contemporary threats to education as a professional practice call for revitalisation of the profession professional bodies and the intellectual traditions that orient and guide educational practice

English as a Second Language in the Mainstream Constant Leung,Christine Davison,Bernard Mohan,2014-07-15

Since it was first established in the 1970 s the Applied Linguistics and Language Study series has become a major force in the study of practical problems in human communication and language education Drawing extensively on empirical research and theoretical work in linguistics sociology psychology and education the series explores key issues in language acquisition and language use English as a Second Language learners are now a considerable and increasing part of the mainstream of urban schools in English speaking countries Beyond the learning of English this development raises broader questions of language as a medium of education in a multilingual multicultural environment Drawing on their experience as researchers and educators in Australia Canada and England the authors of English as a Second Language in the Mainstream present an up to date account of advances in theory and practice Their analysis of system wide provision however suggests that a truly responsive educational vision is lacking government policy is inadequate educational practices for ESL students are either underdeveloped or poorly coordinated with practices for other students and the rhetoric of reform fails to engage significantly with issues of teaching and resources The authors argue towards a more comprehensive vision which can acknowledge the relation between issues concerning ESL students and issues concerning the educational system as a whole which can coordinate reforms in ESL education with general reforms which can explicitly and systematically integrate language learning and content learning and which can build more positively on the multilingual and multicultural nature of modern education for all students

Teaching Climate Change to Children Rebecca Woodard,Kristine M. Schutz,2024

Teaching Climate Change to Children describes the journey of two literacy researchers to learn about climate change and support relevant literacy pedagogy for young children pre K 6 The authors argue that climate change and social justice are inextricable from each other that children in the younger grades are capable of learning about climate change and that reading writing and language study is well suited to this work Three anchoring themes are offered to support literacy climate pedagogy interconnectivity relationality and action with rich classroom examples and different entry points to engage with these themes either by starting small or going big The text includes chapters on the importance of taking an emotionally affirming stance and on the potential of incorporating arts based methods With love for the Earth and one another at its core this accessible book takes a broad view of what it means to cultivate sustainable futures for our planet for teachers and for children in today s schools Book Features A unique focus on teaching about climate change to young children as opposed to adolescents Insights drawn from a yearlong teacher inquiry group with classroom teachers and from literacy methods courses with preservice teachers Explicit attention to the importance of humanizing and care based practices in literacy climate pedagogy Classroom examples collected across four urban public schools where teachers used the activities and resources discussed in the book User friendly textboxes with suggestions and questions to guide discussion reflection and action
