Functional Fitness Paul D'Arezzo, 2005 This timely book written by a physician is directed primarily at a population increasingly beset by muscle and joint pain disability and loss of function at earlier and earlier ages The book's premise is that there are things only we can do to help prevent much of the muscle and joint pain disability and loss of function commonly associated with aging We are often a little too quick to go to the medicine cabinet to seek orthopedic surgery or simply to blame our loss of function on aging As an aside much of looking old no matter what age you pick for that is in great part related to our posture and to how we move or don't move Specifically the four things we need to do to prevent or at least forestall many of the changes with aging are to preserve and maintain our muscular strength our flexibility our posture and to stay active The book attempts to change the way we think about this important subject It is written in a fun easy to read style for the layperson with many illustrations and includes numerous short exercise menus for various problems and over fifty function exercises
