Scope Of Economics Paper 1 For November 2014:

State Capitalism Joshua Kurlantzick,2016-03-08 The combination of new technologies the perceived failures of liberal economics and democracy in many developing nations the rise of modern kinds of authoritarians and the success of some of the best known state capitalists have created an era ripe for state intervention State Capitalism offers the sharpest analysis yet of what state capitalism s emergence means for democratic politics around the world EU Competition Law, Data Protection and Online Platforms: Data as Essential Facility Inge Graef,2016-10-17 All are agreed that the digital economy contributes to a dynamic evolution of markets and competition Nonetheless concerns are increasingly raised about the market dominance of a few key players Because these companies hold the power to drive rivals out of business regulators have begun to seek scope for competition enforcement in cases where companies claim that withholding data is needed to satisfy customers and cut costs This book is the first focus on how competition law enforcement tools can be applied to refusals of dominant firms to give access data on online platforms such as search engines social networks and e commerce platforms commonly referred to as the gatekeepers of the Internet The question arises whether the denial of a dominant firm to grant competitors access to its data could constitute a refusal to deal and lead to competition law liability under the so called essential facilities doctrine according to which firms need access to shared knowledge in order to be able to compete A possible duty to share data with rivals also brings to the forefront the interaction of competition law with data protection legislation considering that the required information may include personal data of individuals Building on the refusal to deal concept and using a multidisciplinary approach the analysis covers such issues and topics as the following data portability interoperability data as a competitive advantage or entry barrier in digital markets market definition and dominance with respect to data disruptive versus sustaining innovation role of intellectual property regimes economic trade off in essential facilities cases relationship of competition enforcement with data protection law and data related competition concerns in merger cases The author draws on a wealth of relevant material including EU and US decision making practice case law and policy documents as well as economic and empirical literature on the link between competition and innovation The book concludes with a proposed framework for the application of the essential facilities doctrine to potential forms of abuse of dominance relating to data In addition it makes suggestions as to how data protection interests can be integrated into competition policy An invaluable contribution to ongoing academic and policy discussions about how data related competition concerns should be addressed under competition law the analysis clearly demonstrates how existing competition tools for market definition and assessment of dominance can be applied to online platforms It will be of immeasurable value to the many jurists business persons and academics concerned with this very timely subject Differentiating the Higher Education System of Ethiopia Adula Bekele Hunde,Ephrem Tekle Yacob,Genene Abebe Tadesse,Kiros Guesh,Mekasha Kassaye Gobaw,Nigussie Dechassa,Tesfaye Muhiye Endris,Tesfaye Negewo,Yemataw Wondie,2023-01-04 The Government of the Federal Democratic Republic of Ethiopia commissioned a national study to review the overall education system of Ethiopia in 2016 that resulted in the Education and Training Roadmap outlining the unwavering commitment towards transformative changes in the national education system. Among the various areas identified in the Roadmap for further intervention and urgent policy shift was the dire need to differentiate the public universities which for ages have stagnated from disciplinary and mission redundancy and transform them to vibrant 21st century dynamic universities endowed with missions commensurate with the critical needs of the country.

Emissions Trading Schemes under International Economic Law James Munro, 2018-08-09 The announcement by China that it will implement a national emissions trading scheme confirms the status of this instrument as the pre eminent policy choice for mitigating climate change. China will join the dozens of existing and emerging schemes around the world from the EU to California South Korea to New Zealand that use carbon units otherwise known as emissions permits or carbon credits to trade in greenhouse gas emissions in a multi billion dollar global carbon market. However to date there has been no consensus about this pre eminent policy instrument being regulated by international economic law through the World Trade Organization international investment agreements and free trade agreements. Munro addresses this issue by evaluating whether carbon units qualify as goods services financial services and investments under international economic law and showing how international economic law applies to emissions trading scheme in diverse and unexpected ways. Further by engaging in a comparative assessment of schemes around the world his book illustrates how and why all emissions trading schemes engage in various forms of violations of international economic law which would not in most instances be justified by environmental or other exceptions. In doing so he demonstrates how such schemes can be designed or reformed in ways to ensure their future compliance.

Consumer Involvement in Private EU Competition Law Enforcement Maria Ioannidou, 2015-09-03 Despite the growing importance of consumer welfare in EU competition law debates there remains a significant disconnect between rhetoric and reality as consumers and their interests still play only an ancillary role in this area of law. Consumer Involvement in Private EU Competition Law Enforcement is the first monograph to exclusively address this highly topical and much debated subject providing a timely and wide ranging examination of the need for more active consumer participation in competition law. Written by an expert in the field it sets out a comprehensive framework of policy implications and arguments for greater involvement positioning the debate in the context of a broader EU law perspective. It outlines pragmatic approaches to remedial and procedural measures that would enable consumer empowerment. Finally the book identifies key institutional and political obstacles to the adoption of effective measures and suggests alternative routes to enhance the role of consumers in private competition law enforcement. The book's innovative approach combining normative analysis and practical solutions make it invaluable for academics policy makers and practitioners in the field.

The Pluralist Character of the European Economic Constitution Clemens Kaupa, 2016-08-25 This monograph intervenes in the long standing and controversial debate on the socio economic orientation of the European Union Arguing that the European economic constitution is pluralist in the sense that it does not favour any specific socio economic paradigm it shows that European law allows the pursuit of very different regulatory projects by the European and the national legislators This pluralist character of the European economic constitution stands in an uncomfortable relationship with the policies currently pursued by the European Union which are often neoliberal in their orientation The book takes an interdisciplinary approach it analyses the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union as interpreted and developed in the case law of the Court of Justice its history and its regulatory purpose in the light of conflicting socio economic paradigms By challenging the orthodoxy the book makes a bold proposition that will likely resonate in both European economic law scholarship and European law in general With the ongoing economic crisis triggering a significant interest in economic questions among legal scholars it is particularly timely and topical
