Cosmopolitanism: Ethics in a World of Strangers (Issues of Our Time) Kwame Anthony Appiah, 2010-03-01 A brilliant and humane philosophy for our confused age Samantha Power author of A Problem from Hell Drawing on a broad range of disciplines including history literature and philosophy as well as the author's own experience of life on three continents Cosmopolitanism is a moral manifesto for a planet we share with more than six billion strangers The Book of Joshua, 1909 From Illiteracy to Literature Anne-Marie Picard, 2016-08-05 From Illiteracy to Literature presents innovative material based on research with non reading children and re examines the complex relationship between psychoanalysis and literature through the lens of the psychical significance of reading the forgotten adventure of our coming to reading Anne Marie Picard draws on two specific fields of interest firstly the wish to understand the nature of literariness or the literary effect i.e. the pleasures and frustrations we derive from reading secondly research on reading pathologies carried out at St Anne's Hospital Paris The author uses clinical observations of non reading children to answer literary questions about the reading experience using psychoanalytic theory as a conceptual framework The notion that reading difficulties or phobias should be seen as a symptom in the psychoanalytic sense allows Picard to shed light on both clinical vignettes taken from children's case histories and reading scenes from literary texts Children experiencing difficulties in learning to read highlight the imaginary stakes of the confrontation with the arbitrary nature of the letter and the price to pay for one's entrance into the Symbolic Picard applies the lesson taught by these children to a series of key literary texts featuring at their very core this confrontation with the signifier with the written code itself This book argues that there is something in literature that drives us back again and again to the loss we have suffered as human beings to what we had to undergo to become human our subjection to the common place of language Picard shows complex Lacanian concepts at work in the field of reading pathologies emphasizing close reading and a clinical attention to the letter of the texts far from the psychobiographical attempts at psychologizing literary authors From Illiteracy to Literature presents a novel psychodynamic approach that will be of great interest to psychotherapists and language pathologists appealing to literary scholars and those interested in the process of reading and literariness Inheriting the Land E. John Hamlin, 1983 In keeping with the international character of the series E. John Hamlin's commentary on Joshua pays more than usual attention to the fulfillment of the third part of God's promise to Abraham By you all the nations of the earth shall bless themselves as well as to the roles played by non Israelites such as Rahab and the Gibeonites Hamlin also takes full account of issues such as war and liberation land distribution and management and personal fulfillment Among the important theological insights revealed in this commentary are God's faithfulness to his oppressed people the importance of land to the covenantal idea the establishment of a new society based on justice freedom and loyalty and secured through covenant teaching and covenant bonding and kingdom struggles leading to kingdom victory and pointing to God's final victory The New York Times Index, 2006
