Design Out Crime Ian Colquhoun,2007-03-14 Here is a book about the practical design of communities and housing in which people can enjoy a good quality of life free from crime and fear of crime Recognising that crime vandalism and anti social behaviour are issues of high public concern and that the driving forces behind crime are numerous this book argues that good design can help tackle many of these issues It shows how through integrating simple crime prevention principles in the design process it is possible almost without notice to make residential environments much safer Written from the perspective of an architect and town planner this book offers practical design guidelines through a set of accessible case studies drawn from the UK USA The Netherlands and Scandinavia Each example illustrates how success comes when design solutions reflect local characteristics and where communities are truly sustainable where residents feel they belong and where crime is dealt with as part of the bigger picture of urban design

Urban Design and the British Urban Renaissance John Punter,2009-10-01 Are Britain s cities attractive places in which to live work and play Asking that question this is a critical review of how the design dimension of the Urban Renaissance strategy was developed and applied based on expert academic assessments of progress in Britain's thirteen largest cities The case studies are preceded by a dissection of New Labour's renaissance agenda and concluded by a synthesis of achievements and failings Exploring the implications of this strategy for the future of urban planning and design this is a must read for students practitioners of these subjects and for all those who wish to improve the quality of the British urban environment

Guide to Britain's Best Hotels Patricia Yates, 1996-11 Habitus: A Sense of Place Emma Rooksby, 2017-09-19 Habitus is a concept developed by the late French sociologist Pierre Bourdieu as a sense of one's place a sense of the other's place It relates to our perceptions of the positions or place of ourselves and other people in the world in which we live and how these perceptions affect our actions and interactions with places and people Habitus implies that a web of complex processes links the physical the social and the mental Inspired by this concept this compelling book brings together leading scholars from interdisciplinary fields to examine ways in which spaces and places are constructed interpreted and used by different people This second edition contains updated chapter material together with an entirely new introduction and revised conclusions which recognise the importance of Bourdieu's work This publication is a tribute to Pierre Bourdieu's remarkable contribution to the fields of sociology anthropology geography political philosophy and urban planning
