The Course Reflection Project Nicole Schonemann, Emily Metzgar, Andrew Libby, 2015-05-01 Service learning is entering a post initiatory phase At tertiary institutions of all types and sizes service learning programs are common and service learning requirements for graduation are growing in popularity Taken together alongside continued faculty interest in effective teaching these factors have raised the visibility and popularity of service learning Now the greater need in service learning is not to prove the need for or efficacy of service learning but to turn the focus squarely back on practice Following established best practice is not enough instructors also need to reflect on how this fits within the specific context and application of each unique course and service learning partnership While there are many excellent resources that detail best practice and showcase exemplary service learning courses faculty reflection and course revision often goes unmentioned In response to the lack of attention on the role of reflection and course revision we convened groups of faculty from a variety of disciplines to reflect deeply on their courses paying specific attention to obstacles and challenges These conversations were converted to articles for this edited collection each chapter representing the process of reflection and revision and serving as a guide to develop effective practice in varied curricular contexts This text contributes to the body of literature on service learning in a unique and practical manner Faculty teaching or interested in teaching service learning classes would benefit from this text as well as university administrators and community service directors involved in service learning at a programmatic and institutional level This book should be marketed to faculty teaching disciplinary service learning classes and service learning pedagogy classes and administrative offices involved in service learning This could be a supplementary text for graduate level pedagogy courses Higher education institutional libraries would benefit from this text as well as the national and state campus compact offices

Developing Reflective TESOL Practitioners Through Teacher Education
Andrzej Cirocki, Mark Wyatt, Xuesong (Andy) Gao, 2024-06-26 This textbook provides insights from Asian contexts into how reflective practice is nurtured on Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages TESOL and English Language Teaching ELT teacher education programmes There is increasing recognition worldwide that given the centrality of reflective practice to teachers ongoing professional development supporting teachers to become reflective practitioners should be integral to teacher education programmes Consequently tertiary level courses in areas such as TESOL and ELT tend to promote reflective practice supported by theoretical input from the burgeoning literature on reflection much of which is produced in the West Relatively under represented in the literature are global perspectives on reflective practice there are consequently relatively few accounts as to how reflective practice is embedded in teacher education programmes in different parts of the world including Asia Hence this book addresses a gap Contributing authors from fourteen countries provide insights into the ways in which teachers are helped to grow as reflective practitioners on their teacher education programmes in their unique contexts This textbook showcases how reflective teaching practices are developed supported by frameworks for critical reflection and in interaction with local educational policies These distinctive accounts aid readers in reflecting on the ways in which reflective practice is supported in their own teacher education contexts and in considering ways of enhancing the reflective dimension of their programmes This textbook showcases innovative reflective activities and can be used as a principal text or as supplemental reading on a range of TESOL and ELT teacher education courses Critical Assessment and Strategies for Increased Student Retention Black, Ruth Claire, 2017-11-30 Student retention has become a difficult issue within higher education As such it is imperative to examine the causes as well as provide educators with strategies to implement to improve retention rates Critical Assessment and Strategies for Increased Student Retention is a pivotal reference source for the latest progressive research on a variety of current student success and attendance perpetuation issues Featuring a broad range of coverage on a number of perspectives and topics such as academic performance counseling and culture this publication is geared towards practitioners academicians and researchers interested in understanding the difficulties with maintaining student retention Service-Learning in the Computer and Information Sciences Brian A. Nejme, 2012-06-07 Offering a truly global perspective this book serves as a road map for service learning partnerships between information science and nonprofit organizations It introduces for the first time an essential framework for service learning in CIS addressing both the challenges and opportunities of this approach for all stakeholders involved faculty students and community nonprofit organizations NPOs both domestic and abroad This volume outlines numerous examples of successful programs from around the world presenting practical working models for implementing joint projects between NPOs and academia Community Service-Learning Rahima C. Wade, 1997-01-01 Presents a comprehensive resource for those interested in youth involvement in community service as part of the public school curriculum The Feedback Process Karen A. Wink, 2022-09-28 The Feedback Process Engaging Students with Meaningful Comments About their Writing features curriculum and instruction to assist humanities educators with commenting on student drafts The focus is on students non fiction writing or arguments supported with credible sources To make a complex process more accessible this book features strategies for both written and auditory commentary To make the process more efficient it includes surveys feedback models rubrics lists of useful comments and sample student drafts with commentary This book draws from classroom research to discuss strategies for managing students emotional responses to feedback as well as instructors using tone and word choice constructively for greater impact on drafts The Feedback Process ultimately aims to lessen the burden on instructors and educators who comment on a substantial number of papers every semester with a fresh approach to feedback Community-Based Global Learning Eric Hartman, Richard C. Kiely, Jessica Friedrichs, Christopher Boettcher, 2023-07-03 International education service learning and community based global learning programs are robust with potential They can positively impact communities grow civil society networks and have transformative effects for students who become more globally aware and more engaged in global civil society at home and abroad Yet such programs are also packed with peril Clear evidence indicates that poor forms of such programming have negative impacts on vulnerable persons including medical patients and children while cementing stereotypes and reinforcing patterns of privilege and exclusion These dangers can be mitigated however through collaborative planning design and evaluation that advances mutually beneficial community partnerships critically reflective practice thoughtful facilitation and creative use of resources Drawing on research and insights from several academic disciplines and community partner perspectives along with the authors decades of applied community based development and education experience they present a model of community based global learning that clearly espouses an equitable balance between learning methodology and a community development philosophy Emphasizing the key drivers of community driven learning and service cultural humility and exchange seeking global citizenship continuous and diverse forms of critically reflective practice and ongoing attention to power and privilege this book constitutes a guide to course or program design that takes into account the unpredictable and dynamic character of domestic and international community based global learning experiences the varying characteristics of destination communities and a framework through which to integrate any discipline or collaborative project Readers will appreciate the numerous toolboxes and reflective exercises to help them think through the creation of independent programming or courses that support targeted learning and community driven development The book ultimately moves beyond course and program design to explore how to integrate these objectives and values in the wider curriculum and throughout formal and informal community based learning partnerships

Hudgins, Anymir Orellana, 2009-05-01 The Perfect Online Course Best Practices for Designing and Teaching was edited under the assumption that a perfect online course can be delivered following different instructional methods and models for design and for instruction and by implementing different teaching or instructional strategies Such methods models and strategies are framed within quality educational guidelines and must be aimed towards attaining the online course's learning goals. The book seeks to make a contribution to the existing body of literature related to best practices and guidelines for designing and teaching distance courses specifically online education. The process of selecting works suitable for this compilation included an extensive review of the journals Quarterly Review of Distance Education and Distance Learning. The book begins by covering literature related to general approaches and guidelines, continues with proposed methods and models for designing and instruction, and ends with instructional strategies to achieve engagement through interaction. The book is divided into four independent yet interrelated parts and a concluding section: Part I Introduction, Part II Best Guidelines and Standards, Part III Best Instructional Methods and Models, Part IV Best Engagement Strategies, and the concluding section. And finally, with words from Simonson who delineates the structure of a perfect online course.

A Toolkit for Mid-Career Academics Vicki L. Baker, Aimee LaPointe Terosky, Laura Gail Lunsford, 2024-04-09. Mid-career faculty are the backbone of the college and university workforce and represent the largest population of faculty in the academy, yet they face myriad challenges that hinder career satisfaction and advancement. This book offers action-oriented tools to engage or re-engage mid-career programming at the individual, faculty, institutional, consortial, and grant-funded levels. Bringing together leading scholars and practitioners engaged in research and practice, this edited volume offers solutions to two driving questions faced by mid-career faculty: what's next and how to navigate. This focus on both what and how highlights critical issues and challenges associated with mid-career, coupled with specific tools and strategies to successfully navigate from diverse stakeholder perspectives. Jargon-free and rich with stories from the field, each chapter can serve as a stand-alone resource, be read in order as presented, or be read non-sequentially based on the reader's specific needs. Mid-career faculty, including non-tenure track and community college academics, will welcome the resources, tools, and strategies featured throughout this book, the pocket professional development mentor to help create more inclusive and equitable programming at multiple levels.
