Performance Assessments John M. Norris,1998 This volume focuses on the decision making potential provided by second language performance assessments The authors first situate performance assessment within a broader discussion of alternatives in language assessment and in educational assessment in general They then discuss issues in performance assessment design implementation reliability and validity Finally they present a prototype framework for second language performance assessment based on the integration of theoretical underpinnings and research findings from the task based language teaching literature the language testing literature and the educational measurement literature The authors outline test and item specifications and they present numerous examples of prototypical language tasks They also propose a research agenda focusing on the operationalization of second language performance assessments Oxford Handbook of Deaf Studies, Language, and Education Marc Marschark Professor at the National Technical Institute of the Deaf at Rochester Institute of Technology, Patricia Elizabeth Spencer Research Professor in the Department of Social Work Gallaudet University, 2003-03-27 In Plato's Cratylus which dates to 360 B C Socrates alludes to the use of signs by deaf people In his Natural History completed in 79 A D Pliny the Elder alludes to Quintus Pedius the deaf son of a Roman consul who had to seek permission from Caesar Augustus to pursue his training as an artist During the Renaissance scores of deaf people achieved fame throughout Europe and by the middle of the 17th century the talents and communication systems of deaf people were being studied by a variety of noted scientists and philosophers However the role of deaf people in society has always been hotly debated could they be educated Should they be educated If so how How does Deaf culture exist within larger communities What do advances in the technology and the genetics of hearing loss portend for Deaf communities In this landmark volume a wide range of international experts present a comprehensive and accessible overview of the diverse field of deaf studies language and education Pairing practical information with detailed analyses of what works why and for whom and banishing the paternalism once intrinsic to the field the handbook consists of specially commissioned essays on topics such as language and language development hearing and speech perception education literacy cognition and the complex cultural social and psychological issues associated with individuals who are deaf or hard of hearing Through careful planning collaboration and editing the various topics are interwoven in a manner that allows the reader to understand the current status of research in the field and recognize the opportunities and challenges that lie ahead providing the most comprehensive reference resource on deaf issues Written to be accessible to students and practitioners as well as researchers The Oxford Handbook of Deaf Studies Language and Education is a uniquely ambitious work that will alter both theoretical and applied landscapes It surveys a field that has grown dramatically over the past 40 years since sign languages were first recognized by scientists to be true languages From work on the linguistics of sign language and parent child interactions to analyses of school placement and the mapping of brain function in deaf individuals research across a wide range of disciplines has greatly expanded not just our knowledge of deafness and the deaf but of the very origins of language social interaction and thinking Bringing together historical information research and strategies for teaching and service provision Marc Marschark and Patricia Elizabeth Spencer have given us what is certain to become the benchmark reference in the field Race, Poverty, and Social Justice José Z. Calderón, 2023-07-03 This volume explores multiple examples of how to connect classrooms to communities through service learning and participatory research to teach issues of social justice

The various chapters provide examples of how collaborations between students faculty and community partners are creating models of democratic spaces on campus and off campus where the students are teachers and the teachers are students The purpose of this volume is to provide examples of how service learning can be integrated into courses addressing social justice issues At the same time it is about demonstrating the power of service learning in advancing a course content that is community based and socially engaged To stimulate the adaptation of the approaches described in these books each volume includes an Activity Methodology table that summarizes key elements of each example such as class size pedagogy and other disciplinary applications Click here for the table to this title The Physician Manager's Handbook Robert J.

Andrews,2007 This textbook prepares dental hygiene students and dental hygienists to handle the business and operational aspects of the dental office The book teaches students how a dental office functions from an operational standpoint and how dental hygienists as licensed professionals fit into that operation Major sections cover basics of dentistry and dental law office management applied communications and employability skills To accommodate a two credit course the text is concise and focuses on exercise based learning Each chapter includes workbook exercises study questions critical thinking activities case studies and RDH board practice questions as well as selected references Websites and student activities Listening in the Language Classroom John

Field,2009-01-22 This book challenges the orthodox approach to the teaching of second language listening which is based upon the asking and answering of comprehension questions The book s central argument is that a preoccupation with the notion of comprehension has led teachers to focus upon the product of listening in the form of answers to questions ignoring the listening process itself The author provides an informed account of the psychological processes which make up the skill of listening and analyses the characteristics of the speech signal from which listeners have to construct a message Drawing upon this information the book proposes a radical alternative to the comprehension approach and provides for intensive small scale practice in aspects of listening that are perceptually or cognitively demanding for the learner Listening in the Language Classroom was winner of the Ben Warren International Trust House Prize in 2008 Pattern Practice in the
