Voices on the Margins Yenda Prado,Mark Warschauer,2024-05-14 A rich view of inclusive education at the intersection of language literacy and technology drawing on case study research in a diverse full inclusion US school before during and after the COVID 19 pandemic Despite advancing efforts at integration the segregation of students with disabilities from their nondisabled peers persists In the United States 34 percent of all students with disabilities spend at least 20 percent of their instructional time in segregated classrooms For students with intellectual or multiple disabilities segregated placement soars to 80 percent In Voices on the Margins Yenda Prado and Mark Warschauer provide an ethnography of an extraordinary full inclusion public charter school in the western United States Future Visions Academy And they ask What does it mean to be inclusive in today s schools with their increasingly pervasive use of digital technologies Voices on the Margins examines the ways digital technologies support inclusion and language and literacy practices for culturally and linguistically diverse children with and without disabilities A wide range of qualitative data collected in the case study illuminates three central themes 1 the kinds of social organization that allow a fully inclusive environment for children with disabilities to thrive 2 the ways that digital technologies can be used to help students express their voice and agency while developing language and literacy skills and 3 the ways that digital technologies can be used to foster stronger networks and connections between students teachers staff and parents

The Uses of Paraprofessionals in the Delivery of Manpower and Social Services Through Public Service Employment: the Vermont Experiences Robert E. Stanfield,1973

Vital and Health Statistics ,1983 Dietary Intake and Cardiovascular Risk Factors William R. Harlan,Alan L. Hull,Robert P. Schumouder,1983 Attention is directed towards possible associations between nutritional variables and coronary artery disease risk factors based on data developed during the first US National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey 1971 75 Relative body weight weight height squared was determined to be an important predictor of serum cholesterol and urate levels and of blood pressure levels in US adults This predictor together with age and sex accounted for most of the explained variance Dietary variables based on results from 24 hours recall or on a food frequency questionnaire

did not influence serum cholesterol or urate levels Alcohol intakes however correlated directly with serum urate level Serum Ca and Mg levels and serum glutamic oxalacetic transaminase were found to be directly and independently related to serum cholesterol and urate which were also related to each other Other positive and negative influences on serum cholesterol and urate levels are discussed Summarized data concerning this study are provided Dietary Intake and Cardiovascular Risk Factors ,1983 Teaching Assistants, Inclusion and Special Educational Needs Rob Webster,Anke A. de Boer,2022-09-19 This book offers the first collection of international academic writing on the topic of teaching assistants It serves as an indicative summary of current research and thinking in this field and as a point of departure for future research and development With contributions from leading researchers the book draws together empirical work on the deployment and impact of teaching assistants from various perspectives and from a range of methodological approaches It highlights and celebrates the vital everyday contributions teaching assistants make to their schools and their communities from their role within classrooms to their moment by moment interactions with pupils and teachers The book examines the effect that teaching assistants can have on pupils learning and wellbeing and considers issues of over dependence on classroom paraprofessionals and the unintended consequences to which this can lead Bringing together work from a journal special issue with brand new and updated chapters the contributions offer insight into the liminal space between educator caregiver behaviour manager and facilitator of learning and of peer relations which characterizes the teaching assistant role This timely and important book will be essential reading for academics researchers and students interested in special educational needs disability and inclusion and those interested in the wider topic of paraprofessionals in labour markets SOMPA, System of Multicultural Pluralistic Assessment Jane R.
