extraordinary trends to have emerged in the West in the 1970s and one that has created considerable interest and curiosity particularly among sociologists is the proliferation of new religious sects Their followers are often young people disenchanted with the drug culture but seeking a new spirituality in an intensely materialistic society Sectarianism is a collection of essays studying this development Edited by Roy Wallis Lecturer in Sociology at the University of Stirling it is written by leading sociologists from Britain Canada and the USA and covers a wide range of sectarian movements in both the religious and the secular domains Included are case studies of The Aetherius Society a flying saucer cult the Hare Krishna movement the Jehovah s Witnesses and the United Family an investigation of societal reaction to Scientology and a fascinating study contrasting modern communitarian movements with the Shakers a once flourishing communitarian sect in the USA In the secular domain the book investigates organizations that though nonreligious exhibit characteristics of religious sects These include the Concept Houses one of the latest methods for rehabilitating drug addicts two contemporary left wing political groups and two ex patient therapeutic groups Neurotics Nomine and Recovery Inc Sectarianism will be indispensable to the sociologists of religion it should also prove of immense interest to the layman wishing to deepen his knowledge of this phenomenon beyond the superficial and often hysterical reporting in the press Publisher Enquiry Into the Practice and Effects of Scientology Sir John Galway Foster,1971 California.
