Living in Latin America

Fill in the Blanks

DIRECTIONS: Use the information in your textbook to fill in the blanks for the following sentences.

- Many agricultural crops in Latin America are intended for export to other countries.
- Today large-scale, money-making farms require fewer workers because they are highly mechanized.
- The cool, fertile highlands of Brazil and Columbia grow some of the world's best coffee.
- Hot, tropical areas of Latin America, particularly in Cuba and Brazil, grow large crops of bananas and sugarcane.
- If natural disasters such as floods destroy their main crop, the economy^{-ies} of these countries suffer, as do their people.
- In some Latin American countries, geographical features such as the high Andes Mts have hindered transportation and communication.
- Mexico's industries are growing; it is a major producer of textiles, processed foods, and motor vehicles.
- Venezuela is a major oil-producing country in Latin America.
- Manufacturing plants built in Latin America by foreign companies that use cheap local labor are called maquiladoras.
- The North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) promotes trade among the United States, Mexico, and Canada.
- In the United States, some people dislike NAFTA because they fear the loss of jobs to generally lower-paid Mexican workers.
- Money borrowed to boost industrialization has led to enormous foreign debt in many Latin American countries.
- Despite physical barriers, some Latin American countries have well-developed rail-roads or computers.
- Every Latin American country is improving its communications, but few people have telephones in their homes.

Live? Susan Douglass,1995-01-01 This supplementary unit is an introduction to the geography of regions where Muslims live as majorities and a description of the circumstances in which Muslims live as minorities The focus is more regional than national so as to overstep the arbitrary modern borders that divide Muslim populations among numerous countries The unit is designed to complement typical geography surveys offered in elementary social studies curricula It is designed for grade four but may be used for grades five and six if the curriculum so requires Study of this unit may be undertaken after the students have received an introduction to basic geography and map skills It is probably best undertaken during the second half of the fourth grade year but since important geography concepts and skills are both introduced and reviewed here the teacher may be confident to proceed earlier The structure of the unit is unique in that the student text is in the form of a play script whose characters a teacher and her students model a cooperative learning experience as they study regions of the world where Muslims live The main objectives of this unit are to provide students with an overview of the places where Muslims live as majority and minority communities and to investigate selected aspects of geographic and cultural diversity within the context of Islamic unity The unit consists of an eight lesson student text with teaching suggestions and enrichment activities Comprehension questions map skills and worksheets accompany the text for concept reinforcement and skill building While the unit is designed for flexibility it is recommended that the students be exposed to the entire student text If time does not allow extensive study of the unit materials the teacher may select only basic material from the teaching suggestions rather than covering these with depth and enrichment

The New Walford Guide to Reference Resources Ray Lester,2005 The New Walford highlights the best resources to use when undertaking a search for accurate and relevant information saving you precious time and effort For those looking for a selective and evaluative reference resource that really delivers on its promise look no further In addition to print sources The New Walford naturally covers an extensive range of e reference sources such as digital databanks digital reference services electronic journal collections meta search engines networked information services open archives resource discovery services and websites of premier organizations in both the public and private sectors But rather than supplying a list of all available known resources as a web search engine might The New Walford subject specialists have carefully selected and evaluated available resources to provide a definitive list of the most appropriate and useful With an emphasis on quality and sustainability the subject specialists have been careful to assess the differing ways that information is framed and communicated in different subject areas As a result the resource evaluations in each subject area are prefaced by an introductory overview of the structure of the relevant literature This ensures that The New Walford is clear easy to use and intuitive Publisher FSOT Study Guide Nick L.
