Irm-Invitation Pub Speaking Miriam Griffin,2002-11 Speaking the Truth in Love Daniel R. Berger,2007-01-01 Approaching public communication from a liberal arts point of view Speaking the Truth in Love provides a distinctly Christian perspective of rhetoric Written and oral rhetoric are interwoven throughout the text Two foundational ideas control the majority of the text The first is from Plato s Phaedrus as stated by Paul in Ephesians 4 15 speaking the truth in love The second is from the Apostle Peter in 1 Peter 4 11 if anyone speaks he should do it as one speaking the very words of God The spiritual responsibility of communicating truth in accordance with the nature of God especially the virtue of love is an awesome privilege and opportunity Sound content spoken or written eloquently with charisma will enable words to have a maximum impact The text is designed to be a culminating learning experience for undergraduate communication programs or as an introductory text for graduate programs involving public communication Beginning with a philosophy of language meaning and interaction argument is built against secular deconstructive thought where everyone has a different truth based on language Alongside philosophy we explore ethics and theology from an evangelical perspective Following this a brief history outlines rhetorical thought from pre testament classics to today Based upon these ideas we take a closer look at communication theory as it relates to public communication Finally the text addresses the practice of both written and oral communication

Feminist Approaches To Bioethics Rosemarie Putnam Tong,2018-02-05 No other cluster of medical issues affects the genders as differently as those related to procreation contraception sterilization abortion artificial insemination in vitro fertilization surrogate motherhood and genetic screening Yet the moral diversity among feminists has led to political fragmentation foiling efforts to create policies that are likely to serve the interests of the largest possible number of women In this remarkable book Rosemarie Tong offers an approach to feminist bioethics that serves as a catalyst bringing together varied perspectives on choice control and connection Emphasizing the complexity of feminist debates she guides feminists toward consensus in thought cooperation in action and a world that would have no room for domination and subordination Tong fairly and comprehensively presents the traditions of both feminist and nonfeminist ethics and bioethics Although feminist approaches to bioethics derive many insights from nonfeminist ethics and bioethics Tong shows that their primary source of inspiration is feminist ethics leading feminist bioethicists to ask the so called woman question in order to raise women's consciousness about the systems structures and relationships that oppress them Feminist bioethicists are naturally committed to acting locally in the worlds of medicine and science But their different feminist voices must also be raised at the policy table in order to make gender equity a present reality rather than a mere future possibility Inability to define a plan that guarantees liberation for all women must not prevent feminists from offering a plan that promises to improve the welfare of many women Otherwise a perspective less appealing to women may fill the gap
