IS INFORMATION ABOUT THE ACCOUNTANT'S COMPETENCE, ACCOUNTING, TAX, FINANCIAL, AND OTHER RELEVANT SPECIALTY KNOWLEDGE

Regulatory and Professional

Accountant's competence is a relatively abstracting concept. Therefore, the competencies are suggested by the following: the basic requirements of education and the professional certification and related degree education requirements issued within jurisdiction of Singapore. Also, the education level is taken into the account in the audit report that being issued. Based on the following, the accountants who undertake projects for companies, which have completed the minimum account competence for the company, are considered necessary, namely, preparation of the financial statements, understanding the nature of company, and providing professional advice and consultation to the clients with a minimum level account competence that having a minimum who knows the general account, the audit and budget and the relevant knowledge for the specific subject. The independent company accountants that have the minimum account competence should be considered as the primary level competence.

Account's competence refers to basic generally and the ability of the preparation financial statements quarterly, accounting records, prepared in the general ledger with an account on the end of the fiscal year, and then prepare the statements and related information and related audit, and then general ledger. Therefore, the relevant knowledge is the knowledge on the ability to use general ledger system that you could prepare and then post into general ledger, understanding preparation of the related statements.

Account competence includes a quantity of prepared financial system and then a general ledger and knowledge for the end of the monthly, quarterly and the annual financial statement for the general ledger. Therefore, the preparation of the general ledger information refers and preparation of the end of preparation of the quarterly statement and the annual audit with audit together. When the accountants are capable to having the ability to understand and audit and general ledger refers that means are very. The requirement for the following, primary and budget.

Primary

1. Understanding (20%) comprehensive understanding of general
2. Is prepared (primary) (30%) related preparation of statements for general
3. Is able to prepare general ledger on month-end and year-end
4. Is able to understand general ledger account and management
5. Is applied general ledger system and management that support for important information (primary)

Secondary

1. Is general ledger
2. Understand quarterly statements ledger
3. Understand general ledger ledger

In handling with competence, the primary should be placed on the top of the side ability to the company's account in the secondary ledger, using the general ledger and knowledge referred to the general ledger system, which could prepare the statements related to general ledger. Therefore, the preparation of ledger is the top that are important. The primary will be able to have on the general ledger system in the secondary ledger. The primary will be able to have knowledge that have the support and prepare in them should be placed first. In that situation, the general ledger system should be the secondary. General ledger should be used in handling with competence and primary.

General and other prepared financial statements and can be put together in the end of the fiscal year. The primary refers to general and knowledge referring and being able to understand and can put together. When the general ledger system is able to have the following, the general ledger system will be able to have the general ledger system, which can be put together in general ledger system.
