

The Rogerian Argument

- ¶ Introduction: Statement of your problem. Present your argument as a problem in need of a solution, and raise the possibility of a positive change.
- ¶ Summary of Opposing Views: Statement of views of the opposition. Be as accurate and neutral as possible.
 - Statement of Understanding: Demonstrate that you are capable of listening without judging and that you have given a fair hearing to those who differ from you—the people you most need to reach.
- ¶ Statement of your position: Having won the attention of both opponents and those who have no position on the issue, explain your views.
 - Statement of Contexts: Show that you understand that there are situations in which the opponents' views are valid. Do not concede that their views are always right, but recognize those conditions (contexts) under which you share their views.
- ¶ Statement of Benefits: Appeal to the self-interest of your opponent by showing how they would benefit from accepting your position. The essay concludes with your thesis stated in as positive a manner as possible.

Reading and Writing for Civic Literacy

Donald Lazere, 2017-07-05 Lazere's book is heaven sent and will provide a crucial link in the chain of understanding how conflicts are structured and most importantly how they can be rationally addressed a healthy antidote to the scepticism that has become so pervasive in academic life Alan Hausman Hunter College This innovative book addresses the need for college students to develop critical reading writing and thinking skills for self defence in the contentious arena of American civic rhetoric In a groundbreaking reconception of composition theory it presents a comprehensive critical perspective on American public discourse and practical methods for its analysis Exercises following the text sections and readings help students understand the ideological positions and rhetorical patterns that underlie opposing viewpoints in current controversies such as the growing inequality of wealth in America and its impact on the finances of college students as expressed in paired sets of readings from the political left and right Widely debated issues of whether objectivity is possible and whether there is a liberal or conservative bias in news and entertainment media as well as in education itself are foregrounded as topics for rhetorical analysis

Re Visioning Composition Textbooks Xin Liu Gale, Fredric G. Gale, 1999-04-23 An exploration of the sometimes tenuous relationship between textbooks and the discipline of composition and rhetoric Re Visioning Composition Textbooks critically scrutinizes the culture of textbooks from the vantage point of scholars and teachers It examines a variety of textbooks including standard rhetorics handbooks cross cultural anthologies readers technical textbooks and argumentation textbooks Different perspectives are used to discuss the cultures ideologies traditions and the material and political conditions that influence the writing and publishing of these works Contributors raise challenging questions about the relationship between textbooks and the cultures which produce them the discipline of which they are an indispensable part and the classrooms in which they are to have their most tangible effects on teaching and learning

Beyond the Frontier Jill Dahlman, Piper Selden, 2015-10-05 Beyond the Frontier Innovations in First Year Composition is a compilation of the latest research in first year composition presented at and inspired by the Rocky Mountain Modern Language Association's Beyond the Frontier panels The book is divided similarly into panels with the editors having collected a sampling of the composition practices that will stand the test of time The purpose of the book is to present the reader with innovative methods and techniques for incorporation into the first year composition classroom or simply to provide food for thought passing the torch as it were so that new research can be conducted and new findings disseminated The division of the book mimics the panels one would typically find on a particular day during the Rocky Mountain Modern Language Association Conference providing the reader with a taste of what it's like to be in the room with first year composition scholars

The Open Hand Barry M. Kroll, 2013-11-15 Based on five years of classroom experimentation The Open Hand presents a highly practical yet transformational philosophy of teaching argumentative writing In his course Arguing as an Art of Peace Barry Kroll uses the open hand to represent an alternative approach to argument asking students to argue in a way that promotes harmony rather than divisiveness and avoiding conventional conflict based approaches Kroll cultivates a bodily investigation of noncombative argument offering direct pedagogical strategies anchored in three modalities of learning conceptual procedural kinesthetic and contemplative and projects activities assignments informal responses and final papers for students Kinesthetic exercises derived from martial arts and contemplative meditation and mindfulness practices are key to the approach with Kroll specifically using movement as a physical analogy for tactics of arguing Collaboration mediation and empathy are important yet overlooked values in communicative exchange This practical engaging and accessible guide for teachers contains clear examples and compelling discussions of pedagogical strategies that teach students not only how to write persuasively but also how to deal with personal conflict in their daily lives
