

Dear Graduating Class of _____,

What a remarkable year it has been! Just like that, 10 months have come and gone and your elementary school career is finished. It has been a pleasure teaching such hardworking and compassionate students. You have all persevered through the challenges that you faced in math, reading, and writing with grace and made many memories along the way. Your last year in elementary school also meant being a role model for the younger students in the building. I am so proud of the shining examples that this fifth grade class has set for those younger students who are going to eventually follow in your footsteps.

Now, it is time for the next chapter in your life to begin. I hope you all look back on these past six years in elementary school as a wonderful time where you created friendships that will last for years to come and began to really learn about who you are as an individual. Next year in sixth grade might feel like you're starting over, and you might face some tough days, weeks, and months, but just know, you are more than ready. Remember, as Michael Jordan once said, "If you run into a wall, don't turn around and give up. Figure out how to climb it, go through it, or work around it." It might take some hard work and endurance on your end, but I know you will make it through any challenge that comes your way.

Middle school is the stepping stone to some of the best years of your life. I urge you to pause every once in a while, look around you, and take everything in - your friends, the places, the memories that you're making. I hope you dare to try something new and accept new challenges. Most importantly, I hope you choose to stand apart from the crowd and stand up for what you believe in your heart to be right. I wish you all the best life has to offer. Congratulations on graduating!

Love,

Retention of Pupils in Schools Joseph Howard Weisel, 1924

The Shape of Social Inequality David Bills, 2005-08-24 This volume brings together former students colleagues and others influenced by the sociological scholarship of Archibald O Haller to celebrate Haller s many contributions to theory and research on social stratification and mobility All of the chapters respond to Haller s programmatic agenda for stratification research A full program aimed at understanding stratification requires first that we know what stratification structures consist of and how they may vary second that we identify the individual and collective consequences of the different states and rates of change of such structures and third seeing that some degree of stratification seems to be present everywhere that we identify the factors that make stratification structures change The contributors to this Festschrift address such topics as the changing nature of stratification regimes the enduring significance of class analysis the stratifying dimensions of race ethnicity and gender and the interplay between educational systems and labor market outcomes Many of the chapters adopt an explicitly cross societal comparative perspective on processes and consequences of social stratification The volume offers both conceptually and empirically important new analyses of the shape of social stratification

Community Practice David A. foundations of community and social work practice Unearthing Culturally Responsive Mathematics Teaching Emily P. Bonner, 2010-11-04 Unearthing Culturally Responsive Mathematics Teaching The Legacy of Gloria Jean Merriex focuses on the theory and practices of a highly successful mathematics teacher of African American children in a high poverty school. The book aims to contribute to the limited literature base in this area in mathematics education. The discussions in the book center on the ideals of culturally responsive teaching CRT and seek to build understanding of this concept in the context of mathematics. Further the story of Gloria Jean Merriex speaks to the importance of historical influences on teaching practice. Her story is couched in sociopolitical realities of the American educational system and is discussed as such. Cultural incongruities that exist in classrooms and contribute to the black white achievement gap particularly in mathematics are also discussed.

Inquiry as Stance Marilyn Cochran-Smith, Susan L. Lytle, 2015-04-25 In this long awaited sequel to Inside/Outside: Teacher Research and Knowledge, two leaders in the field of practitioner research offer a radically different view of the relationship of knowledge and practice and of the role of practitioners in educational change. In their new book, the authors put forward the notion of inquiry as stance as a challenge to the current arrangements and outcomes of schools and other educational contexts. They call for practitioner researchers in local settings across the United States and around the world to ally their work with others as part of larger social and intellectual movements for social change and social justice. Part I is a set of five essays that conceptualize inquiry as a stance and as a transformative theory of action that repositions the collective intellectual capacity of practitioners. Part II is a set of eight chapters written by eight differently positioned practitioners who are or were engaged in practitioner research in K-12 schools or teacher education. Part III offers a unique format for exploring inquiry as stance in the next generation: a readers theatre script that juxtaposes and co-mingles 20 practitioners' voices in a performance oriented format. Together the three parts of the book point to rich possibilities for practitioner inquiry in the next generation. Contributors: Rebecca Akin, Gerald Campano, Delvin Dinkins, Kelly A.

Harper Gillian Maimon Gary McPhail Swati Mehta Rob Simon and Diane Waff Cochran Smith and Lytle once again prove themselves to be among the best at melding theory and practice Instead of merely making the case for practitioner inquiry they go the next step to show us exactly what this genre brings to our field rigor relevance and passion The interplay of conceptual clarity and powerful exemplars make this a text we will read well into the next decade Gloria Ladson Billings University of Wisconsin Madison Once again Marilyn Cochran Smith and Susan Lytle point the way to new and hopeful understandings of practitioner research Rather than blame teachers for all that is wrong with education they and their fellow authors remind us that if school reform is to have any chance of fulfilling its stated goal of equal opportunity for all students teachers must have a significant voice in research policy and practice With its focus on social justice and its view of practitioner research as transformative this is a powerful and welcome sequel to their classic Inside Outside Sonia Nieto Professor Emerita University of Massachusetts Amherst Inquiry as Stance should be a blockbuster This brilliant sequel recalibrates relationships between practitioner inquiry and social justice Carole Edelsky Professor Emerita Arizona State University This optimistic and generous book is sure to become a central reference for teacher researchers in K 16 schools and their colleagues and supporters throughout the system Elyse Eidman Aadahl Director National Programs and Site Development National Writing Project University of California Berkeley This view of the intellectual and personal work of teaching is a major counter to the contemporary emphasis on testing and packaged curricula Cynthia Ballenger reading specialist Cambridge Public Schools Once again Cochran Smith Lytle and their colleagues bring us an invaluable book on the enormous possibilities of practitioner research Luis C Moll College of Education University of Arizona Federal Register ,1985-10 Popular Mechanics ,1950-12 Popular Mechanics inspires instructs and influences readers to help them master the modern world Whether it s practical DIY home improvement tips gadgets and digital technology information on the newest cars or the latest breakthroughs in science PM is the ultimate guide to our high tech lifestyle
