Journalism and Human Rights John C. Pollock, 2017-10-02 This book is the first collection of original research to explore links between demographics and media coverage of emerging human rights issues It covers cross national reporting on human trafficking HIV AIDS water contamination and child labour and same sex marriage Guantanamo detainee rights immigration reform and post traumatic stress disorder in the United States The research asks questions such as What are the principal catalysts that propel rights issues into media agendas Why do some surface more quickly than others And how do the demographics of cross national reporting differ from those driving multi city US nationwide coverage of rights claims Using community structure theory and innovative Media Vector content analysis the eight chapters of this book reveal three striking patterns that show how differences in female empowerment social or economic vulnerability and Midwestern newspaper geographic location link powerfully with variations in coverage of rights issues The patterns connecting demographics and rights claims confirm that coverage of human rights can mirror the concerns of stakeholders and vulnerable groups contrary to conventional assumptions that media typically serve as guard dogs reinforcing the interests of political and economic elites This book was originally published as a special issue of The Atlantic Journal of Communication

Sprague Linguistic Notes Haruo Aoki and Bruce Rigsby The Press as Public Educator Colin Lacey, David Longman, 1997 Looking at media education and the environment this book argues that it is essential to examine their connections and the adequacy of these relationships for the future The focus is on the educational function of the press and the problem that forms a context for this focus is the environment The ^AOxford Handbook of the Sociology of Body and Embodiment Natalie Boero, Katherine Mason, 2020-11-02 The Oxford Handbook of the Sociology of Body and Embodiment introduces the sociological research methods and subjects that are key to the growing field of body and embodiment studies With an emphasis on empirical evidence and diverse lived experiences this handbook demonstrates how studying the bodily offers unique insights into a range of social norms institutions and practices Web Journalism:// Sean Tunney, 2009-12-03 Provides an analytical account of the implications of interactive participation in the construction of media content This work seeks to critically assess Internet news production It is suitable for those engaged in the debate over Web reporting and citizen journalism Solidarity in the Media and Public Contention over Refugees in Europe Manlio Cinalli, Hans-Jörg Trenz, Verena Brändle, Olga Eisele, Christian Lahusen, 2021-04-13 This book examines the European refugee crisis offering an in depth comparative analysis of how public attitudes towards refugees and humanitarian dispositions are shaped by political news coverage An international team of authors address the role of the media in contesting solidarity towards refugees from a variety of disciplinary perspectives Focusing on the public sphere the book follows the assumption that solidarity is a social value political concept and legal principle that is discursively constructed in public contentions The analysis refers systematically and comparatively to eight European countries namely Denmark France Germany Greece Italy Poland Switzerland and the United Kingdom Treatment of data is also original in the way it deals with variations of public spheres by combining a news media claims making analysis with a social media reception analysis In particular the book highlights the prominent role of the mass media in shaping national and transnational solidarity while exploring the readiness of the mass media to extend thick conceptions of solidarity to non members It proposes a research design for the comparative analysis of online news reception and considers the innovative potential of this method in relation to established public opinion research The book is of particular interest for scholars who are interested in the fields of European solidarity migration and refugees contentious politics while providing an approach that talks to scholars of journalism and political communication studies as well as digital journalism and online news reception Resistance Advocacy as News Benjamin Rex LaPoe II, Victoria L. LaPoe, 2018-01-30 Resistance Advocacy as News Digital Black Press Covers the Tea Party examines the Black and mainstream press s digital interpretations of the Tea Party during President Barack Obama s first term The Tea Party narrative and the white ideologies disseminated by conservative groups was and continues to be an intricate story for journalists to tell This book tracks coverage of the Tea Party from the modern group s beginning in early February of 2009 until two weeks after the 2012 general presidential election in November While many mainstream journalists either fail to recognize or ignore all together the racial component that the Tea Party poses to Black solidarity this book shows that Black reporters working for the Black press absolutely recognize the racial component and provide more thorough discussions than their mainstream counterparts Historically the Black press has existed to fill holes of misrepresentation in the mainstream press to that end this book addresses questions surrounding the ongoing necessity of the Black press and whether our society is postracial combining a quantitative analysis of implicit racial frames with a qualitative analysis of resonant myth and providing empirical evidence that Black people still struggle to have their voices heard in the mainstream press

Primary Industries Facing Global Markets Frank Asche, 2006 Food producers and other producers of primary products such as forestry increasingly face international competition and the markets for their products increasingly become globalized This process can provide promising opportunities to reach new markets and to increase value added by marketing new products But there are challenges though as new competitors show up in the domestic markets and access to the retail outlets is denied Norway is a country with a successful export oriented aquaculture industry and more protected forestry and agricultural sectors This book explores some of the lessons learned from these sectors in coping with international competition and in exploiting the opportunities that are offered by more open markets The perspectives adopted come from marketing economics as well as multidisciplinary social sciences Each perspective is essential to paint a reliable picture of the opportunities and challenges facing primary industries
