Strategic Coupling Henry Wai-chung Yeung, 2016-04-22 In Strategic Coupling Henry Wai chung Yeung examines economic development and state firm relations in East Asia focusing in particular on South Korea Taiwan and Singapore As a result of the massive changes of the last twenty five years new explanations must be found for the economic success and industrial transformation in the region State assisted startups and incubator firms in East Asia have become major players in the manufacture of products with a global reach Taiwan's Hon Hai Precision has assembled more than 500 million iPhones for instance and South Korea's Samsung provides the iPhone's semiconductor chips and retina displays Drawing on extensive interviews with top executives and senior government officials Yeung argues that since the late 1980s many East Asian firms have outgrown their home states and are no longer dependent on state support as a result the developmental state has lost much of its capacity to steer and direct industrialization We cannot read the performance of national firms as a direct outcome of state action Yeung calls for a thorough renovation of the still dominant view that states are the primary engine of industrial transformation He stresses action by national firms and traces various global production networks to incorporate both firm specific activities and the international political economy He identifies two sets of dynamics in these national global articulations known as strategic coupling coevolution in the confluence of state firm and global production networks and the various strategies pursued by East Asian firms to attain competitive positions in the global marketplace Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, 2003 Korea Briefing Kong Dan Oh, 2000 While mainly focusing on the Kim Dae Jung era the essays in this book examine persistent problems and new opportunities in Korean politics economy and culture In 1997 Kim Ae Jung was elected to head the government of the Seventh Republic after 30 years in opposition

Business Groups in East Asia Sea-Jin Chang, 2006-03-02 The 1997 Asian Crisis principally affected Thailand Indonesia Malaysia and Korea as well as other East Asian countries heavily dependent on intra regional trade Banks and other financial institutions quickly become insolvent and heavily indebted industrial firms went bankrupt Many of these firms were affiliated with the business groups of this region yet most groups did not immediately collapse indeed they proved remarkably robust some surviving and even prospering This book examines these East Asian business groups and their subsequent restructuring following the Asian Crisis East Asian nations embarked on very different trajectories to this common external shock The Asian Crisis affected the inter relationships among the socio cultural environment the state and the market of each country quite differently and had distinct effects on the operations of these countries business groups This slow yet divergent pattern of development provides evidence against theories of rapid global convergence Yet East Asian business groups face an uncertain future Foreign investors influence has increased substantially since the crisis as East Asian governments had to accommodate their demands to keep attracting foreign capital Governments supervise banks more closely and have loosened restrictions on mergers and hostile takeovers further strengthening the discipline of the market Various entry barriers that had inhibited foreign multinationals from competing in national markets were lifted exposing business groups to intensified foreign competition Under these new conditions business groups in East Asia should reconfigure their business structures and adjust their corporate governance systems to regain momentum for further growth Business groups will continue to be important vehicles for the sustained future growth of this region and this book presents a substantial amount of new data on this which will be of interest to academics researchers and advanced students of East Asian business and business practitioners working within the region

Free Trade Agreements V. S. Seshadri, 2023-03-16 A Free Trade Agreement FTA is an agreement between two or more countries where the countries agree on certain terms and conditions that affect trade between them There are more than 350 FTAs worldwide today In the last two decades these agreements significantly expanded in scope covering not only market access but also behind the border policy issues going far beyond WTO rules Mega regional FTAs like Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans Pacific Partnership CPTPP and Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership RCEP are coming into play Developed countries are also establishing their own templates for FTA making This book is intended to bring about a greater level of understanding among readers in a systematic manner with respect to the vast changes taking place on the FTA scene worldwide and about India s own limited participation in this regard so far FTAs are legal instruments but they also substantially affect business industry and agriculture interests There is a widely held perception in the country not without some validity that India s existing FTAs even if limited have benefitted the partner countries more than us India has recently signed two FTAs with the UAE and Australia Discussions with the UK are at an advance stage and both the countries are expected to sign the FTA soon This book tries to capture various aspects of these agreements keeping India's position in mind      The Politics of the Asian Economic Crisis T. J. Pempel, 2018-09-05 In the summer of 1997 a tidal wave of economic problems swept across Asia. Currencies plummeted, banks failed, GNP stagnated, unemployment soared and exports stalled. In short, the vaunted Asian Economic Miracle became the Asian Economic Crisis with serious repercussions for nations and markets around the world. While the headlines are still fresh, a group of experts on the region presents the first account to focus on the political causes and implications of the crisis. The events of 1997-98 involved not just property values, financial flows, portfolio makeup and debt ratios, they argue, but also the power relationships that shaped those economic indicators. As they examine the domestic, regional and international politics that underlay the economic collapse, the authors analyze the reasons why the crisis affected the nations of Asia in radically different ways. The authors also consider whether the crisis indicates a radical change in Asia's economic future      Rethinking the East Asian Miracle Joseph E. Stiglitz, Shahid Yusuf, 2001-06-01 This volume provides highly illuminating analytic perspectives on key facets of the East Asian economies. It discusses weaknesses in the financial sector, corporate governance, exchange rate and trade policies, regulatory capability and proposes remedies. Rethinking the East Asian Miracle is an indispensable book for all those with an interest in East Asia's prospects in the early decades of the new century      Routledge Handbook of Southeast Asian Economics Ian Coxhead, 2014-12-17 The Routledge Handbook of Southeast Asian Economics offers new insights into the rapidly developing economies of Southeast Asia. Despite widespread initial deprivation, Southeast Asia has achieved and sustained a remarkable rate of growth in the course of which tens of millions have successfully escaped severe poverty. Though the economies of the region vary in many dimensions, integration into the wider East Asian network of production and trade is a notable common feature, one that continues a centuries-long history of engagement with global trade. A second striking feature is the pace and extent of transformation in the structure of production and in sources of household income in the region, which has undergone remarkably rapid industrialization and urban growth. However, the search for sustained and sustainable growth through and beyond middle income continues to confront pressing economic and policy challenges. This Handbook offers a timely and comprehensive overview of Southeast Asian economic development. Organized according to the logic of chronological and thematic unity, it is structured in these sections: Growth and development over the long term; Food, agriculture and natural resources; Trade, investment and industrialization; Population, labor and human capital; Poverty and political economy; Twenty-first century challenges. This original Handbook, written by experts in their fields, is unique in the breadth and depth of its coverage. Its forward-looking perspective renders it relevant both now and in the future. This advanced-level reference work will be essential reading for students, researchers and scholars of Asian Studies, Economics and Southeast Asian studies      Art in the Age of the Internet Eva Respini, 2018-01-01 Art in the Age of the Internet 1989 to Today is the first major thematic group exhibition in the United States to examine the radical impact of internet culture on visual art. Featuring 60 artists collaborations and collectives the exhibition is comprised of over 70 works across a variety of mediums including painting performance photography sculpture video web based projects and virtual reality The exhibition is divided into five sections that explore themes such as emergent ideas of the body and notions of human enhancement the internet as a site of both surveillance and resistance the circulation and control of images and information the possibilities for exploring identity and community afforded by virtual domains and new economies of visibility accelerated by social media Throughout the work in the exhibition addresses the internet age democratization of culture that comprises our current moment The earliest work in the exhibition is from 1989 the year that Tim Berners Lee invented the World Wide Web This development and others that followed in quick succession modernized the internet and in the process radically changed our way of life from how we access and generate information make friends and share experiences to how we imagine our future bodies and how nations police national security 1989 also marked a watershed moment across the globe with significant shifts in politics geographies and economies Events such as the fall of the Berlin Wall and protests in Tiananmen Square signaled the beginning of our current globalized age which cannot be imagined without the internet
