Policing America's Educational Systems John Harrison Watts, 2019-06-11 Policing America's Educational Systems edited by John Harrison Watts describes methods of policing modern educational settings covering both K-12 public school and public or private colleges and universities. Using topical examples, subject matter experts introduce the history of policing in elementary and high schools, the legal context governing educational institutions, and ways to assess risk and prevent or respond to crime, including active shooter incidents. The opening section covers primary and secondary education, while the second focuses on postsecondary educational settings. A final section offers a theoretical approach to understanding campus crime and discusses the role of counseling and mental health in keeping students safe. A concluding chapter looks at the future of policing in education. Contributors bring both academic and practitioner experience to each topic covered, and useful features include learning objectives, chapter summaries, key terms, and discussion questions that further explore the issues and controversies covered in that section. This textbook is designed for courses in school or campus policing within criminal justice, social work, and sociology programs, and is also appropriate for in-service training for professionals involved in school or campus policing and safety. Naval Training Bulletin, 1957 The Only Easy Day was Yesterday, 2006. It is a comprehensive documentation of this singular training process through the extraordinary photographs of Richard Schoenberg.
