Archaeological Perspectives on Conflict and Warfare in Australia and the Pacific Geoffrey Clark, Mirani Litster, 2022-03-08
When James Boswell famously lamented the irrationality of war in 1777 he noted the universality of conflict across history and across space even reaching what he described as the gentle and benign southern ocean nations This volume discusses archaeological evidence of conflict from those southern oceans from Palau and Guam to Australia Vanuatu and Tonga the Marquesas Easter Island and New Zealand The evidence for conflict and warfare encompasses defensive earthworks on Palau fortifications on Tonga and intricate pa sites in New Zealand It reports evidence of reciprocal sacrifice to appease deities in several island nations and skirmishes and smaller scale conflicts including in Easter Island This volume traces aspects of colonial era conflict in Australia and frontier battles in Vanuatu and discusses depictions of World War II materiel in the rock art of Arnhem Land Among the causes and motives discussed in these papers are pressure on resources the ebb and flow of significant climate events and the significant association of conflict with culture contact The volume necessarily selective eclectic and wide ranging includes an incisive introduction that situates the evidence persuasively in the broader scholarship addressing the history of human warfare

The Honorable Merchant - Between Modesty and Risk-Taking Christoph Lütge, Christoph Strosetzki, 2019-01-11 This volume explores the concept of the honest merchant taking a broad perspective and covering a wide range of aspects It looks at the different types of honest merchant conceptions originating from different cultures and literary traditions The book covers Japanese Islamic Scandinavian Russian German Spanish as well as other aspects and studies different disciplinary backgrounds of the honest merchant such as philosophical economic neuroethical sociological and literary ones The concept of the honest merchant has a long tradition in business ethics In the Hanseatic League and in medieval Italy the ideal of the honest businessman was taught since the late Middle Ages It originated during a time when travelling merchants were often regarded with a sceptical eye The honest merchants of their time however held clear principles in their business and took responsibility for their community In later times the religious notions of the concept lost their pivotal place to reason and morality This book goes beyond the tradition of discussing business ethics in association with concepts from the Hanseatic League and medieval Italy and puts the central concept of business ethics in a much greater perspective

Confucius and the Analects Revisited, 2018-10-16 Edited by Michael Hunter and Martin Kern and featuring contributions by preeminent scholars of early China Confucius and the Analects Revisited New Perspectives on Composition Dating and Authorship critically examines the long standing debates surrounding the history of the Analects for two millennia considered the most authoritative source of the teachings of Confucius 551 479 BCE Unlike most previous scholarship it does not take the traditional view of the Analects origins as given Instead it explores the validity and the implications of recent revisionist critiques from historical philosophical and literary perspectives and further draws on recently discovered ancient manuscripts and new technological advances in the Digital Humanities As such it opens up new ways for productive engagement with the text Contributors Mark Csikszentmihalyi Paul van Els Robert Eno Joachim Gentz Paul R Goldin Michael Hunter Martin Kern Esther Klein John Makeham Matthias L Richter Authorship and Text-making in Early China Hanmo Zhang,2018-10-08 This book is a timely response to a rather urgent call to seek an updated methodology in rereading and reappraising early Chinese texts in light of newly discovered early writings For a long time the concept of authorship in the formation and transmission of early Chinese texts has been misunderstood The nominal author who should mainly function as a guide to text formation and interpretation is considered retrospectively as the originator and writer of the text This book illustrates that although some notions about the text as the author s property began to appear in some Eastern Han texts a strict correlation between the author and the text results from later conceptions of literary history Before the modern era there existed a conceptual gap between an author and a writer A pre modern Chinese text could have had both an author and a writer or even multiple authors and multiple writers This work is the first study addressing these issues by more systematically emphasizing the connection of the text the author and the religious and sociopolitical settings in which these issues were embedded It is expected to constitute a palpable contribution to Chinese studies and the discipline of philology in general Languages, scripts, and Chinese texts in East Asia Peter Francis Kornicki,2018-01-19 Chinese Writing and the Rise of the Vernacular in East Asia is a wide ranging study of vernacularization in East Asia not only China Japan Korea and Vietnam but also societies that no longer exist such as the Tangut and Khitan empires Peter Kornicki takes the reader from the early centuries of the common era when the Chinese script was the only form of writing and Chinese Buddhist Confucian and medical texts spread throughout East Asia through the centuries when vernacular scripts evolved right up to the end of the nineteenth century when nationalism created new roles for vernacular languages and vernacular scripts Through an examination of oral approaches to Chinese texts it shows how highly valued Chinese texts came to be read through the prism of the vernaculars and ultimately to be translated This long process has some parallels with vernacularization in Europe but a crucial difference is that literary Chinese was unlike Latin not a spoken language As a consequence people who spoke different East Asian vernaculars had no means of communicating in speech but they could communicate silently by means of written conversation in literary Chinese a further consequence is that within each society Chinese texts assumed vernacular garb in classes and lectures Chinese texts were read and declaimed in the vernaculars What happened in the nineteenth century and why are there still so many different scripts in East Asia How and why were Chinese texts dethroned and what replaced them These are some of the questions addressed in Chinese Writing and the Rise of the Vernacular in East Asia Reimagining Academic Activism Ruth Weatherall,2023-05-09 Based on deep ethnographic research this book explores new practices and ideas about activism in the fight against social inequality aims to analyze the various vulnerabilities of different island sectors and to formulate a susceptibility index from these variables to be used by government and planning agencies for relief prioritization. Such variables include tropical cyclones, built infrastructures, proximity to coastal areas, agriculture, fisheries and marine resources, groundwater availability, biodiversity and economic impacts on industries such as tourism. Through the categorization and indexing of these variables, human and physical adaptation measures are proposed and support solutions are offered to aid the inhabitants of affected island countries. This book is intended for policy makers, academics and climate change researchers, particularly those dealing with climate change impacts on small islands. Dangerous Fishes of New Zealand Laith A. Jawad, 2024-10-22. Among the aims of the present book is to educate locals about the danger of this group of fishes as part of a public education and awareness program that should be initiated in the coastal areas. It is therefore important to identify and assess the hazards posed by various fishes in each region and bring the results to public attention. In addition, at locations where hazards involving dangerous fish have been identified, procedures should be developed for treating any injuries sustained. This book will be a reference book to both Academic and students in different disciplines of knowledge to use in their research on fishes of New Zealand and the Pacific. The scholars interested in fish fauna of New Zealand will use this book as a guide to compare the dangerous fish fauna of New Zealand with those of the other parts of The Pacific regions. Discourses of Globalisation and Higher Education Reforms Joseph Zajda, W. James Jacob, 2022-03-15. This book examines some of the major higher education reforms and policy shifts globally, particularly in the light of recent shifts in quality and standards driven education and policy research. It critiques the neo liberal ideological imperatives of current higher education and policy reforms and illustrates the way that changes in the relationship between the state and higher education policy affect current trends in higher education reforms. Using diverse comparative education paradigms from critical theory to historical comparative research, the chapters focus on globalisation ideology and higher education reforms and examine both the reasons and outcomes of higher education reforms and policy change. The book analyses and evaluates the policy shifts in methodological approaches to globalisation and higher education reforms and their impact on education policy and pedagogy. The book contributes in a very scholarly way to a more holistic understanding of the nexus between globalisation, comparative education research and higher education reforms. Pediatric Sleep Medicine David Gozal, Leila Kheirandish-Gozal, 2021-04-15. This book provides comprehensive coverage of all aspects related to pediatric sleep and its associated disorders. It addresses the ontogeny and maturational aspects of physiological sleep and circadian rhythms as well as the effects of sleep on the various organ systems as a function of development. Organized into nine sections, the book begins with a basic introduction to sleep and proceeds into an extensive coverage of normative sleep and functional homeostasis. Part three then concisely examines the humoral and developmental aspects of sleep, namely the emerging role of metabolic tissue and the intestinal microbiota in regulation. Parts four, five and six discuss diagnoses, methods, techniques in sleep measurement and specific aspects of pharmacotherapy and ventilator support for the pediatric patient Various sleep disorders are explored in part seven followed by an in depth analysis of obstructive sleep apnea in part eight The book concludes with discussions on the presence of sleep issues in other disorders such as Down syndrome obesity cystic fibrosis and asthma Written by recognized leaders in the field Pediatric Sleep Medicine facilitates an extensive learning experience for practicing physicians who encounter specific sleep related issues in their practice

Handbook of Research on Managing the Urban-Rural Divide Through an Inclusive Framework Popoola, Ayobami

Abayomi, Magidimisha-Chipungu, Hangwelani Hope, Chipungu, Lovemore, 2023-02-10 In recent years the growing disparities between rural and urban areas in developing countries have been a cause of major concern The rural urban gap remains the single most well documented development and welfare disparity in the developing world This gap can be seen in the low economic activities higher poverty levels and lower quality infrastructure and services in rural areas as opposed to urban areas While the magnitude of this rural urban divide is well documented very little has been documented about its impact on inclusive and sustainable urban development The Handbook of Research on Managing the Urban Rural Divide Through an Inclusive Framework aims to capture the spatial and socio economic divide between rural and urban areas and provides a road map to revamping the discussion that surrounds the urban rural sphere Covering key topics such as development food security and rural regions this premier reference source is ideal for policymakers government officials industry professionals researchers academicians practitioners scholars instructors and students
