

The Negative Impacts and Influence of Peer Pressure on Teenagers

Does peer pressure negatively impact a teenager?

By definition, peer pressure is social pressure by members of one's peer group to take a certain action, adopt certain values, or otherwise conform to be accepted. Everyone, during a period of their life, experiences peer pressure. There are three different forms of peer pressure: direct, indirect and individual. Direct peer pressure is a teenager or a group of teenagers actually telling another teenager what he/she should do. Indirect peer pressure is not necessarily verbal peer pressure but optical peer pressure. When a teenager is hanging out with a group of friends who smoke or do drugs they may think this negative behavior it is acceptable. Individual peer pressure is trying too hard to fit in and doing things because other people are doing them. Even though peer pressure has positive effects on teens, by helping them do well in school, eating healthy, exercising, joining after-school programs, it has more negative effects on teens as it influences teens to start taking drugs, smoking, shoplifting, cutting class, having sex, drinking alcohol, physical violence, and doing badly in school.

Teenage years is that phase of life when you are exposed to the world outside. These are the years when you spend most of your time with your friends. Teenage is the phase of beginning to become independent in life; the years of forming your ideals and principles, the years that shape your personality and the years that introduce you to your own self. Adolescents often spend most of their daily time with friends and owing to this vulnerable age, they tend to imitate their friends. This is because of their
