Locating the Field Simon Coleman, Peter Collins, 2020-09-09 Are reports of the death of conventional fieldwork in anthropology greatly exaggerated This book takes a critical look at the latest developments and key issues in fieldwork The nature of locality itself is problematic for both research subjects and fieldworkers on the grounds that it must now be maintained and represented in relation to widening and fragmenting social frames and networks Such developments have raised questions concerning the nature of ethnographic presence and scales of comparison From the social space of a cybercafe to cities in India the UK and South Africa among others this book features a wide range of ethnographic studies that provide new ways of looking at the concepts of locality and site It shows that rather than taking key fieldwork processes such as globalization and mobility for granted anthropologists are well placed to examine and critique the totalizing assumptions behind these notions Guide to Basic Statistics in Countries of the ECAFE Region United Nations. Dancing with Devtas: Drums, Power and Possession in the Music of Garhwal, North India Andrew Alter,2016-12-05 In the Central Himalayan region of Garhwal the gods devtas enjoy dancing Musicians whether ritual specialists or musical specialists are therefore an indispensable part of most entertainment and religious events In shamanistic ceremonies their incantations songs and drumming make the gods possess their mediums In other contexts such as dramatic theatrical renditions of stories of specific deities actors dance the role of their character having become possessed by the spirit of their character Through the powerful sounds of their drumming musicians cause the gods to dance Music and more particularly musical sound is perceived in Garhwal as a powerful force Andrew Alter examines music and musical practice in Garhwal from an analytical perspective that explores the nexus between musical sounds and performance events He provides insight into performance practice vocal techniques notions of repertoire classification instruments ensembles performance venues and dance practice However music is not viewed simply as a system of organized sounds such as drum strokes pitch iterations or repertoire items Rather in Garhwal the music is viewed as a system of knowledge and as a system of beliefs in which meaning and spirituality become articulated through potent sound iterations Alter makes a significant contribution to the discipline of ethnomusicology through a detailed documentation of musical practice in the context of ritual events The book offers a traditionally thorough historical ethnographic study of a region with the aim of integrating the local field based case studies of musical practices within the broader Garhwali context The work contains invaluable oral data which has been carefully transliterated as well as translated Alter blends a carefully detailed analysis of drumming in conjunction with the complex ritual and social contexts of this sophisticated and semantically rich musical practice Resources in Education ,1997-10
