immediately after apprehension Body searching is a vague subject It is very difficult to perform in a proper and effective way In body searching there is close contact between the officer and suspect Being in such close contact sometimes creates a critical situation Everyone placed under arrest must be searched There should be no exceptions to this rule Failure to conduct a proper search could cost an officer s or civilians life Generally there is no legal distinction between searching and handcuffing a man or a woman Gender should not be an inhibiting factor in the application of proper techniques However these techniques should be tempered with the individual officer s good judgment Police officers should not confuse the object of the search with the application of the search technique A cooperative suspect should not lull the police officer into a false sense of security The suspect s attitude is no guarantee that they will not attempt to escape when such an opportunity presents itself Topics and techniques presented in this book will be of both great interest and great value to trainers and students of law enforcement Canadiana ,1986 Research in Education ,1972 Report of the Federal Security Agency United States.
