Zhanen,2019-04-30 There is no such thing as impossible and at the very least what is said to be impossible intrigues them Start adapting this attitude as soon as you can and you ll see immediate results There isn t one thing in the world that you cannot do and the only one that can say otherwise is yourself When you realize this you ll begin to feel more in control and take more decisive action in your ventures Thinking positively about every situation is a precious trait and will be found amongst almost all successful people The idea behind a selffulfilled prophecy is that the more you say something the more accurate it becomes in your life When you tell yourself that something is impossible or allow someone else to you ve already stopped yourself from accomplishing it However telling yourself that you can do something even in the odds of adversity actually increases the chances that you ll succeed This is because you ll already be thinking about success not a failure This will drive you to go above and beyond limitations to reach your goal as failure was never an option to begin with When you combine positive thinking with useful goal setting you ll soon see your selfmotivation begin to rise You ll feel more organized and more powerful than ever and as you continue living this way those feelings can only increase Tell yourself that you can
