Industrial consolidation digital platforms and changing political views have spurred debate about the interplay between public and private power in the United States and have created a bipartisan appetite for potential antitrust reform that would mark the most profound shift in US competition policy in the past half century While neo Brandeisians call for a reawakening of antitrust in the form of a return to structuralism and a concomitant rejection of economic analysis founded on competitive effects proponents of the status quo look on this state of affairs with alarm Scrutinizing the latest evidence Alan J Devlin finds a middle ground US antitrust laws warrant revision he argues but with far more nuance than current debates suggest He offers a new vision of antitrust reform achieved by refining our enforcement policies and jettisoning an unwarranted obsession with minimizing errors of economic analysis      Industrial and Trade Policy Reform in Developing Countries Ramesh Adhikari,Colin H. Kirkpatrick,John Weiss,1992      The Palgrave Guide to English Literature and Its Contexts Peter Widdowson,2017-03-14 This comprehensive guide to the historical and cultural context of English literature covers the core periods of literature and history from the English Renaissance to the present Peter Widdowson introduces and outlines key terms concepts and developments and provides a series of timelines showing political social cultural and literary events for each year Together this indispensable reference work offers a concise history of Britain for literature students at all levels and provides readers with the context for any literary work from 1500 to 2000 The Palgrave Guide to English Literature and its Contexts 1500 2000 Overs a wide range of canonical British authors and works but also provides contextualising examples of works from other countries Each chapter focuses on a key period in English Literature and History gives a brief overview of that period and defines the main terms and ideas of the age Contains easy to follow timelines which may be viewed either horizontally or vertically allowing readers to track a chronological history or single out the developments and events of a specific year      World Development Report 2008 World Bank,2007 This work will focus on three themes namely identifying new sources of growth for agriculture making agriculture more effective for poverty reduction and managing the transitions that accompany the transformation of agriculture as economies develop      Reforming European Welfare States Jochen Clasen,2005-08-25 Welfare state reform has been a focus of domestic policy making in many European countries in recent years Representing almost a third of the EU population and two distinctive models of European welfare states this book compares development in British and German social policy over the past 25 years During this time four periods of conservative governments were followed by centre left administrations in both countries Moreover the respective economic and social positions of the two countries have been reversed Adverse socio economic developments have contributed to the waning of the erstwhile appeal of Germany as a role model of welfare capitalism By contrast the UK is seen by some as being on its way to gaining such a position These trends provide an analytically intriguing background for a systematic contextualized comparison of reform processes in the two welfare states Concentrating on three core domains of social policy the book argues that unemployment support and public pension programmes have been subjected to retrenchment as well as to restructuring By contrast family policies have been extended in both countries However patterns of retrenchment and restructuring differ across countries and programmes In order to explain similarities and variations the book emphasizes the relevance of three sets of factors shifts in party policy preferences and power relations three institutional variables and contingent factors impinging on policy direction and profiles Within pension policy the relevance of different institutional characteristics and the respective balance between private and public forms of retirement suggest that the concept of path dependence is particularly instructive By contrast differences in programme structures and their role within national political economies prove to be most relevant for the understanding of changes in unemployment support policy Less institutionally embedded and expanding the trajectories of family policies have to be seen in the context of dynamic party policy preferences
