Aspiration and Anxiety Christina Ho, 2020-06-02 The children of Asian migrants are often perceived to be perfect students ambitious studious and compliant They are remarkably successful routinely outperforming other students in exams dominating selective school intakes and disproportionately winning places at prestigious universities While their hard work and success have been praised their achievements have ignited fierce debates about whether their migrant parents are pushing too hard or whether they ought to be lauded for their commitment to education Critics see a dark side symbolised by the tiger mother who is obsessed with producing overachieving dragon children What is often missing in these debates is an understanding of what drives Asian migrant parents approaches to education This book explores how aspirations for their children's future reinforce their anxieties about being newcomers in an unequal society

Resources in Education, 2000 Investing in Your Child's Future Nicola Field, 2016-05-12 Most parents dream of giving their children the best possible education However an education primary secondary and tertiary costs money Parents of a child born in 2006 can pay approximately 250K for a child's lifetime education according to the latest research from the Australian Scholarships Group And costs are constantly on the rise Investing in Your Child's Future is aimed at parents and future parents grandparents and other family members and covers children's education from pre school to tertiary studies It is designed to show readers how they can secure and contribute to their children's future and can benefit from a higher education at the institution of their choice without sacrificing their lifestyle or financial security and regardless of their income Investing in Your Child's Future shows readers how they can finance all or some of their children's education by planning ahead implementing simple strategies and saving money as early and as regularly as possible When your children are young it's easy to delay funding their education as it is not an immediate expense However education is a major expense regardless of whether you choose a private or public education and the sooner you start saving the more money you will accumulate and the sooner you can stop worrying about your child's future
