

Autobiography

Wen-Yi, Lee 李文怡

Personal Background

My name is Lee Wen-Yi and I come from Taoyuan. I grow up in a healthy and happy family. Although being the youngest child in my family, I have told and trained to be autonomous and independent in daily life. Therefore, my parents always respect my own decisions since adolescence. They instruct me how to be a responsible person instead of pushing me finishing my school assignments. Thus, they both play a crucial role in my life. My parents are factory workers who did not receive high education and attend high school, but they do educate me as best as they can. In my early childhood, they provided me opportunities to learn English for interest even though they had financial difficulties. They always remind us of being hard working and trying not to give up easily. This is how I learned patience, diligence, and determination—setting up a future goal and trying to achieve that goal steadily and systematically.

Thanks to the opportunity my parents gave me, I started to learn English and get in touch with western culture. Because I was highly motivated to learn English, I studied so hard in each step of learning that I have won numerous prizes within 6-year period of English learning. Although I came across difficulties in grammatical rules and speaking ability sometimes, I never give up easily and I would ask questions with much patience. These experiences of learning English have set up a solid foundation for my future learning.

However, I did not able to keep my enthusiasm for English. Considering our financial circumstance, I decided to go to a military academy after senior high school.

Military Career v.s University

After receiving half-year training in the Air Force Institute of Technology, I was assigned to the Air Force Sungshan Air Base and responsible for analyzing the maintaining records of airplanes. I had served there for three years and then was assigned to the Cultural Affairs and Psychological Warfare Section of the Command

The Only Woman in the Room
Eileen Pollack,2016-09-06 ONE OF WASHINGTON POST S NOTABLE NONFICTION BOOKS OF THE YEAR A bracingly honest exploration of why there are still so few women in STEM fields beautifully written and full of important insights Washington Post In 2005 when Lawrence Summers then president of Harvard asked why so few women even today achieve tenured positions in the hard sciences Eileen Pollack set out to find the answer A successful fiction writer Pollack had grown up in the 1960s and 70s dreaming of a career as a theoretical astrophysicist Denied the chance to take advanced courses in science and math she nonetheless made her way to Yale There despite finding herself far behind the men in her classes she went on to graduate summa cum laude with honors as one of the university s first two women to earn a bachelor of science degree in physics And yet isolated lacking in confidence starved for encouragement she abandoned her ambition to become a physicist Years later spurred by the suggestion that innate differences in scientific and mathematical aptitude might account for the dearth of tenured female faculty at Summer s institution Pollack thought back on her own experiences and wondered what if anything had changed in the intervening decades Based on six years interviewing her former teachers and classmates as well as dozens of other women who had dropped out before completing their degrees in science or found their careers less rewarding than they had hoped The Only Woman in the Room is a bracingly honest no holds barred examination of the social interpersonal and institutional barriers confronting women and minorities in the STEM fields This frankly personal and informed book reflects on women s experiences in a way that simple data can t documenting not only the more blatant bias of another era but all the subtle disincentives women in the sciences still face The Only Woman in the Room shows us the struggles women in the sciences have been hesitant to admit and provides hope for changing attitudes and behaviors in ways that could bring far more women into fields in which even today they remain seriously underrepresented
