About Life Amanda Libbers, 2020-06-19 Poems that speak words about life highlight not only the good in life but also the sadness of things that come people's way and the bad. When it highlights the bad, there is sadness, and in sadness one is always able to turn a bad situation into a good one if they choose to do so. This book is filled with creative poetry, some telling a story that illustrates Christian viewpoints and themes. Themes and scriptures built around creative, unique poetry are cited at the end of each poem where it applies. Not all poetry involves the Bible, so not all poetry is cited, but all poems are united about some aspect of life or life experience, either in a surreal way, a fantastical way, or in a literal sense. Asking the Earth Winin Pereira, Jeremy Seabrook, 2013-11-05 The need to produce food without the destructive chemical horrors of much modern farming for an intelligent use of dwindling natural resources and for humane forms of production is universal; the practice is limited. This book is an account of one large instance of success in practice. Twenty-five years ago, Winin Pereira, a nuclear physicist, abandoned academia to start a co-operative farm at Alonde in a tribal area north of Bombay. The group experienced and finally discarded all the false hopes and promises of Western-originated forms of development: ploughs that ploughed too deep, irrigation systems that lowered water tables, fertilizers and pesticides which managed the earth and became so expensive that poorer farmers were dispossessed. Instead, they learnt from the adivasai or tribal people who have nurtured or been nurtured by forefathers for millennia: ways of applying popular knowledge to contemporary problems. This book is a combination of Pereira's record of achievement of sustainable livelihoods and an account of the farm and its effect on the India around it, by a leading British journalist. Originally published in 1991.
