Amin, Laura Branchetti, Mariana Levin, 2021-09-24 This book starts with the premise that beauty can be an engine of transformation and authentic engagement in an increasingly complex world It presents an organized picture of highlights from the 13th European Science Education Research Association Conference ESERA 2019 held in Bologna Italy The collection includes contributions that discuss contemporary issues such as climate change multiculturalism and the flourishing of new interdisciplinary areas of investigation including the application of cognitive neuroscience artificial intelligence and digital humanities to science education research It also highlights learners difficulties engaging with socio scientific issues in a digital and post truth era The volume demonstrates that deepening our understanding is the preferred way to address these challenges and that science education has a key role to play in this effort In particular the book advances the argument that the deep and novel character of these challenges requires a collective search for new narratives and languages an expanding knowledge base and new theoretical perspectives and methods of research The book provides a contemporary picture of science education research and looks to the theoretical and practical societal challenges of the future PISA 2015 Results (Volume I) Excellence and Equity in Education OECD, 2016-12-06 The OECD Programme for International Student Assessment PISA examines not just what students know in science reading and mathematics but what they can do with what they know Results from PISA show educators and policy makers the quality and equity of learning outcomes achieved elsewhere Turn Down the Heat World Bank Publications, 2014-11-20 A Report for the World Bank by the Potsdam Institute for Climate Impact Research and Analytics Handbook of Economic Expectations Ruediger Bachmann, Giorgio Topa, Wilbert van der Klaauw, 2022-11-04 Handbook of Economic Expectations discusses the state of the art in the collection study and use of expectations data in economics including the modelling of expectations formation and updating as well as open questions and directions for future research The book spans a broad range of fields approaches and applications using data on subjective expectations that allows us to make progress on fundamental questions around the formation and updating of expectations by economic agents and their information sets The information included will help us study heterogeneity and potential biases in expectations and analyze impacts on behavior and decision making under uncertainty Combines information about the creation of economic expectations and their theories applications and likely futures Provides a comprehensive summary of economics expectations literature Explores empirical and theoretical dimensions of expectations and their relevance to a wide array of subfields in economics East Asian Development Model Shipping Hua, Ruihua Hu, 2014-12-17 Given the impressive growth in East Asia after World War II initially led by Japan the region s development models have been scrutinized since the 1980s The shared Confucian cultural heritage strong government guidance and export led economies were often cited as contributors to the impressive growth. However major changes have taken place in Asia on and around the turn of the century. Japan experienced two decades of economic slow down while World Bank figures reveal that China is poised to become the largest economy in the world in 2014 overtaking the United States. Bearing this in mind is it even possible to formulate an East Asian development model in the context of a shifting twenty first century. And if so what is it. This book addresses this issue by looking at the economic political and cultural perspectives of China Japan and South Korea focusing on dynamism and potential consensus regarding an East Asian development model. The chapters offer a historical background to the East Asian development model as well as in depth case studies of each of the countries concerned to show that whilst the East Asian development model does have distinct characteristics as compared with other areas and other countries may draw some insights from the East Asian experience it is not a panacea that fits all circumstances and fits all times. This book will be welcomed by students and scholars of Asian economics Asian politics international political economy and development studies.

Records of the Proceedings and Printed Papers of the Parliament Australia. Parliament, 1910 A Question of Power Robert Bryce, 2020-03-10 An acclaimed author and celebrated journalist breaks down the history of electricity and the impact of global energy use on the world and the environment. Global demand for power is doubling every two decades but electricity remains one of the most difficult forms of energy to supply and do so reliably. Today some three billion people live in places where per capita electricity use is less than what is used by an average American refrigerator. How we close the colossal gap between the electricity rich and the electricity poor will determine our success in addressing issues like women's rights inequality and climate change. In A Question of Power veteran journalist Robert Bryce tells the human story of electricity the world's most important form of energy. Through onsite reporting from India Iceland Lebanon Puerto Rico New York and Colorado he shows how our cities our money our very lives depend on reliable flows of electricity. He highlights the factors needed for successful electrification and explains why so many people are still stuck in the dark. With vivid writing and incisive analysis he powerfully debunks the notion that our energy needs can be met solely with renewables and demonstrates why if we are serious about addressing climate change nuclear energy must play a much bigger role. Electricity has fueled a new epoch in the history of civilization. A Question of Power explains how that happened and what it means for our future.
