Violence in Families Committee on the Assessment of Family Violence Interventions,Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,National Research Council and Institute of Medicine,1998-02-27 Reports of mistreated children domestic violence and abuse of elderly persons continue to strain the capacity of police courts social services agencies and medical centers At the same time myriad treatment and prevention programs are providing services to victims and offenders Although limited research knowledge exists regarding the effectiveness of these programs such information is often scattered inaccessible and difficult to obtain Violence in

Families takes the first hard look at the successes and failures of family violence interventions. It offers recommendations to guide services programs policy and research on victim support and assistance treatments and penalties for offenders and law enforcement. Included is an analysis of more than 100 evaluation studies on the outcomes of different kinds of programs and services. Violence in Families provides the most comprehensive review on the topic to date. It explores the scope and complexity of family violence including identification of the multiple types of victims and offenders who require different approaches to intervention. The book outlines new strategies that offer promising approaches for service providers and researchers and for improving the evaluation of prevention and treatment services. Violence in Families discusses issues that underlie all types of family violence such as the tension between family support and the protection of children risk factors that contribute to violent behavior in families and the balance between family privacy and community interventions. The core of the book is a research based review of interventions used in three institutional sectors social services health and law enforcement settings and how to measure their effectiveness in combating maltreatment of children domestic violence and abuse of the elderly. Among the questions explored by the committee: Does the child protective services system work? Does the threat of arrest deter batterers? The volume discusses the strength of the evidence and highlights emerging links among interventions in different institutional settings. Thorough readable and well organized. Violence in Families synthesizes what is known and outlines what needs to be discovered. This volume will be of great interest to policymakers social services providers health care professionals police and court officials victim advocates researchers and concerned individuals.
