They re not America's most affluent ten percent or best educated ten percent They re not the early adopters always the first to try everything from Franco Polynesian fusion cooking to digital cameras They are however the 10 percent of Americans most engaged in their local communities and they wield a huge amount of influence within those communities They re the campaigners for open space initiatives They re church vestrymen and friends of the local public library They re the Influentials and whether or not they are familiar to you they re very well known to the researchers at RoperASW For decades these researchers have been on a quest for marketing s holy grail that elusive but supremely powerful channel known as word of mouth What they ve learned is that even more important than the word what is said is the mouth who says it They ve identified studied and analyzed influence in America since the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey now Exxon hired Elmo Roper himself to develop a model for identifying opinion leaders and in The Influentials they are finally ready to share their results A few samples Influentials have been the early majority leading indicators of what Americans will be buying for more than five decades from choosing energy efficient cars in the 1970s to owning computers in the 1980s to adopting 401 k s and IRAs in the 1990s to using the Internet and cell phones today Influentials have led the way in social development as well from the revival of self reliance in managing their own health care investments and consumption to mass skepticism about the marketing claims of everything from breakfast food
