

My Past, Present, and Future

Hard life does not equal reason for failure, but reason for determination. Even though it may seem with so much bad you are bound to fail, with all of my bad I'm bound to succeed. I have been through a lot in life, just as every single mother but I still have what it takes for my future success. Do you have what it takes for a brighter future? The first reason I believe hard times give you determination, is because I had a hard childhood growing up.

Beginning with my father abusing my mother and he was never around, a mother who was struggling to figure out who she was and what she wanted in life, and how to take care of a teenager with so many bad experiences. My father was murdered in front of me and passed in my arms when I was seven years old. My only father figures I had left were my brothers who for their own reasons couldn't be around much. I turned to alcohol at a young age thinking it would make my life better. I felt as if I was alone. I didn't know I had people that would be there for me.

All I knew was my immediate family and my friends, which were not good influences. My mother had turned to alcohol as well and I was always home alone or with my uncle John. I never wanted to go to school; however, my uncle encouraged me to do so. I continued to attend school and did the best I thought I could. I got into skating thanks to my uncle and that is how I got rid of my stress if I had it. Uncle John always took me and my friends to the skating rink to enjoy time, just as a young child should. It made things better for me for awhile I had my father figure back again, but still needed my mom.

I was lost and had no guidance; so much had happened to me at such a young age and that affected my life because I believe no matter what happens you can't erase your bad memories. My beliefs are stated by Sigmund Freud, he said "The world as we know it is stored in our conscious mind" (Witt & Mossler, 2010, Ch. 2, Pg. 2). Additionally, at age fifteen I was involved in a car accident that everyone including myself thought it ended my life. I was pronounced dead on scene yet revived. I was hospitalized for over a week and had to go through therapy to learn how to walk again.

My brain wasn't coordinating with my legs. I broke five ribs, my lung collapsed, crushed my heel, burned my back, my scalp was avulsed, broken nose, and in general shaken up. I woke up to a paramedic by my side coaching me through my breathing and having faith in my ability to overcome anything. It just so happened with me living in a small town that paramedic was my best friend's father, Gene Deck. That's when I got my mom back, and to this day she is always there for me and is my best friend. During that time I had also lost my brother who meant the world to me.

He was my role model and was everything to me. I would wait for him every day on the porch to arrive from work. He had been through a lot himself and had went to prison

Knowing Future Time In and Through Greek Historiography Alexandra Lianeri, 2016-03-07 From the early modern period Greek historiography has been studied in the context of Cicero's notion historia magistra vitae and considered to exclude conceptions of the future as different from the present and past Comparisons with the Roman Judeo Christian and modern historiography have sought to justify this perspective by drawing on a category of the future as a temporal mode that breaks with the present In this volume distinguished classicists and historians challenge this contention by raising the question of what the future was and meant in antiquity by offering fresh considerations of prognostic and anticipatory voices in Greek historiography from Herodotus to Appian and by tracing the roots of established views on historical time in the opposition between antiquity and modernity They look both at contemporary scholarly argument and the writings of Greek historians in order to explore the relation of time especially the future to an idea of the historical that is formulated in the plural and is always in motion By reflecting on the prognostic of historical time the volume will be of interest not only to classical scholars but to all who are interested in the history and theory of historical time The Essays, Humor, and Poems of Nathaniel Ames, Father and Son Samuel Briggs, Nathaniel Ames, 1891 Victor Burgin's Parzival in Leuven Stéphane Symons, Hilde Van Gelder, 2017-05-22 In depth analysis of Victor Burgin's video installation Parzival 2013 In commemoration of the destruction of the University Library of Leuven Belgium in August 1914 the projection work Parzival created by Victor Burgin UK 1941 in 2013 was installed within the rebuilt Library The installation uniquely marked the 100th anniversary of the beginning of World War I which left its profound traces on both the consciousness and physiognomy of the city of Leuven Burgin's reflection on Richard Wagner's opera Parsifal premiere 1882 combines the artist's computer modelled images a bombed out street a sunset meadow a Venetian palazzo with citations from Roberto Rossellini's Germany Year Zero 1948 and references to works by Milan Kundera W G Sebald and Philip K Dick This publication provides an in depth analysis of Parzival a work that is inspired by the period of seven months that Wagner spent in Venice 1858 1859 Burgin's Parzival raises questions about some of the most fundamental elements in Wagner's operatic work the longing for a savior the complex connection between violence and catharsis and the presentiment that destruction awaits humanity in the future Gitterdämmerung In an associative manner Parzival brings together various artistic and political features to confront the romantic
