Store Location ,1949      The Mom & Pop Store Robert Spector,2010-09-07 Business journalist Robert Spector grew up working in his family's butcher shop in Perth Amboy New Jersey where he learned invaluable lessons about the independent retail business Mom pop stores have always brought people together fostering a sense of neighborhood identity and camaraderie and are the glue that connects people in big cities and small towns alike Long fascinated by the direct connection people feel as merchants and customers when they do business in neighborhood stores at shops that are not super sized but human sized and responding to the growing buy local movement across the country Spector set out to discover the state and the state of mind of independent retailing in America From a specialty soda pop shop in Los Angeles to a florist shop in Dayton Ohio from a bakery in Chicago to a bookstore in Washington State mom pop store owners shared their stories with him revealing the spirit and tenacity of the small business owner dealing with frustration and defeat as well as triumph and success Spector also interweaves the history of independent retailing The Mom Pop Store reflects the story of this country for it embraces and cross references every ethnic group and virtually every element of our society      "The Urban Department Store in America, 1850-1930 " Louisa Iarocci,2017-07-05 In the late nineteenth century the urban department store arose as a built artifact and as a social institution in the United States While the physical building type is the foundation of this comprehensive architectural study Louisa Iarocci reaches beyond the analysis of the bricks and mortar to reconsider how the spaces of selling were culturally produced spaces as well as the product of interrelated economic social technological and aesthetic forces The agenda of the book is three fold to address the lack of a comprehensive architectural study of the nineteenth century department store in the United States to expand the analysis of the commercial city as a built and represented entity and to continue recent scholarly efforts that seek to understand commercial space as a historically specific and a conceptually perceived construct The Urban Department Store in America 1850 1930 acts as a corrective to a current imbalance in the historiography of this retailing institution that tends to privilege its role as an autonomous modern building type Instead Iarocci documents the development of the department store as an urban institution that grew out of the built space of the city and the lived spaces of its occupants      The New Jersey Bookstore Book Carole Marsh,1991-09      The Urban Department Store in America, 1850-1930 Dr Louisa Iarocci,2014-12-28 In the late nineteenth century the urban department store arose as a built artifact and as a social institution in the United States While the physical building type is the foundation of this comprehensive architectural study Iarocci reaches beyond the analysis of the brick and mortar to reconsider how the spaces of selling were culturally produced spaces as well as the product of interrelated economic social technological and aesthetic forces      PC Mag ,1991-06-11 PCMag com is a leading authority on technology delivering Labs based independent reviews of the latest products and services Our expert industry analysis and practical solutions help you make better buying decisions and get more from technology      Confidential
