Write to Be Read Barbara J. Smith,Hopie Blecher,2023-11-03 Write to Be Read is meant to inspire educators to be designers of engaging curriculum specifically targeting ways to improve the teaching of writing in schools today Students tend to write in response to literature whereas the focus of this resource is to help students write material fiction and non fiction that they want to read Students often engage in writing that is more about pleasing the teacher or ticking a homework or assignment box This book challenges many assumptions with reference to traditional models for teaching writing A rich assortment of engaging examples are presented in this book to prompt educators to adapt and construct their own meaningful writing units of study

Imagining the Future Chilla Bulbeck,2012 Do young Australians understand and live equality and difference differently from older generations Is Australia the gender equal society that many claim it to be How do we understand and explain growing economic inequality when our dominant ideologies are individualism and neoliberalism What are or should be the limits of tolerance in our negotiation of cultural difference Imagining the Future explores our contemporary complex equality narrative through the desires and dreams of 1000 young Australians and 230 of their parents from diverse backgrounds across Australia This extraordinary data set affords analysis of the impact of gender socio economic disadvantage ethnicity Aboriginality and sexuality on young peoples imagined life stories or essays written about their future An intergenerational comparison assesses how different young people really are from older generations The book offers a compelling and subtle engagement with the sometimes deeply moving sometimes hilarious voices of young people to deliver insight into the challenges and complexity of gender and other social relations in early 21st Australian society Young people yearn for and believe in equal opportunities but their imagined life stories indicate massive inequalities in the personal resources that will allow them to achieve their goals They claim to live in a world of gender equality even as they continue to cherish performances of gender difference The gulf between young mens and young womens imagined intimate lives together suggest that many are bound for conflict They and indeed their parents do not understand the world in terms of class relations but proclaim that everyone is the same even as they are aware of fine distinctions in economic resources and cultural capital Alongside proclaimed acceptance of cultural diversity the advantages experienced by virtue of being white challenges many young Australians In an increasingly individualistic world some young people perform in intimate citizenship or personal engagements based on shared experiences Like their parents few understand obligations towards unmet others which form the basis of national solidarity Journalism for High Schools William Naill Otto,1926
