Surgical Pathology Report

DIAGNOSIS

1. Infiltrating Ductal Carcinoma, Moderately Differentiated (SBR score 6), Right Breast Core Biopsies.
2. Ductal Carcinoma in situ, high grade.

NOTE: breast marker analysis is pending (IHC and FISH) and an addendum report will be issued. The results were reviewed by the pathologist.

Core Biopsies, Low Power

Infiltrating Ductal Carcinoma

Focal Gland Formation

CLINICAL HISTORY: palpable right breast mass; calcifications on mammogram

SITES: right breast core biopsies

GROSS: Received in formalin are 4 cores of white and yellow tissue, each measuring 2.0 X .03 cm in diameter. Totally embedded in one cassette. MS/ad

MICROSCOPIC: Sections reveal infiltrating ductal carcinoma. The tumor is composed of irregular, nests and cords of cells with focal gland formation. Individual cells have irregular nuclei and nucleoli. Well formed glands make up less than 20% of the tumor. Mitoses are occasionally encountered and these number 4 per 10 hpf. The tumor elicits a desmoplastic stromal reaction. Calcifications are seen within a few neoplastic ducts as well as the stroma. There is a focus of ductal carcinoma in situ involving one core. Nuclei are large and have prominent nucleoli. The duct lumen is filled with necrotic debris. All four core biopsies contain infiltrating carcinoma; the longest tumor segment is 1.7 cm in a 2 cm core.

Breast Marker analysis is pending and an addendum report will be issued.

PREVIOUS BX/PAP HISTORY: FNA, cyst left breast, benign (5/5/2005)

Diagnosis and Management of Endocrine-related Tumors Richard J. Santen, Andrea Manni, 2012-12-06 Patients with a variety of tumors present to the physician because of clinical manifestations of hormones secreted in excess This phenomenon attracted the investigative interest of such pioneers as Harvey Cushing who recognized that pituitary tumors may cause acromegaly and Charles Mayo who associated hyper tension with adrenal medullary neoplasms Current interest in endocrine related tumors has intensified because of the explosive development of newer methodology for their study Specific measurements of secretory products hybridization assays to identify products of genomic translation and quantitative assessment of tissue hormone receptors have provided means of characterizing and precisely following patients with endocrine related tumors Treatments based upon these advances are rapidly proliferating The current volume attempts to synthesize much of this recent information with the goal of providing a sound basis for making clinical judgements regarding diagnosis and management Tumors of endocrine glandular tissues commonly confront practicing physicians with difficult management problems Several unique features of these tumors necessitate collaboration among various specialty disciplines in order to resolve these problems and to provide a high level of clinical care For example endocrine neoplasms secrete active hormones or hormone precursors which produce clinical manifestations most familiar to endocrinologists Certain therapies such as radioactive iodine for thyroid cancer take advantage of the hormone responsiveness of these tumors to facilitate treatment These aspects require individuals trained in endocrinology to implement complex diagnostic and therapeutic maneuvers
