Patterns Four Television Plays With The Author S Personal Commentaries:

Patterns Rod Serling, 1957 Rod Serling was the television industry's original show runner His screenplay Patterns aired on January 12 1955 launched his career Within hours Jack Gould of the New York Times wrote Nothing in months has excited the television industry as much as the Kraft Television Theatre's production of Patterns an original play by Rod Serling The enthusiasm is justified In writing acting and direction Patterns will stand as one of the high points in the TV medium's evolution An overnight success Serling immediately found himself in the company of the Golden Age of Television's elite writers including Paddy Chayefsky Reginald Rose and Gore Vidal and the recipient of his first of six Emmy awards Serling would later write a semi autobiographical screenplay The Velvet Alley describing such a meteoric rise to fame and success Patterns the book was Serling's first foray into the world of publishing What is invaluable is not merely the actual screenplays but Serling's comments on each and his twenty five plus page dissertation on writing for television during its Golden Age What is different about this new edition is Mark Dawidziak's insightful forward explaining the relevance of Patterns to Serling's prolific body of work Given Serling's dissertation and Dawidziak's analysis it is worth repeating that this is without question REQUIRED READING for anyone involved in the creation of intelligent television

American Literature in Transition, 1950-1960 Steven Belletto, 2017-12-28 American Literature in Transition 1950-1960 explores the under recognized complexity and variety of 1950s American literature by focalizing discussions through a series of keywords and formats that encourage readers to draw fresh connections among literary form and concepts institutions cultures and social phenomena important to the decade The first section draws attention to the relationship between literature and cultural phenomena that were new to the 1950s The second section demonstrates the range of subject positions important in the 1950s but still not visible in many accounts of the era The third section explores key literary schools or movements associated with the decade and explains how and why they developed at this particular cultural moment The final section focuses on specific forms or genres that grew to special prominence during the 1950s Taken together the chapters in the four sections not only encourage us to rethink familiar texts and figures in new lights but they also propose new archives for future study of the decade

Philosophy in The Twilight Zone Noël Carroll, Lester H. Hunt, 2009-05-04 Utilizing a series of essays examining the broad philosophical concepts embedded in Rod Serling's series The Twilight Zone Philosophy in The Twilight Zone provides a platform for further philosophical discussion Features essays by eminent contemporary philosophers concerning the over arching themes in The Twilight Zone as well as in depth discussions of particular episodes Fuses popular cult entertainment with classical philosophical perspectives Acts as a guide to unearthing larger questions from human nature to the nature of reality and beyond posed in the series Includes substantial critical and biographical information on series creator Rob Serling

Everything I Need to Know I Learned in the Twilight Zone Mark Dawidziak, 2025-06-25 Can you live your life by what The Twilight Zone has to teach you Yes and maybe you should The proof is in this lighthearted collection of life lessons ground rules inspirational thoughts and stirring reminders found in Rod Serling's timeless fantasy series Written by veteran TV critic Mark Dawidziak this unauthorized tribute is a celebration of the classic anthology show but also on another level a kind of fifth dimension self help book with each lesson supported by the morality tales told by Serling and his writers The notion that it's never too late to reinvent yourself soars through The Last Flight in which a World War I flier who goes forward in time and gets the chance to trade cowardice for heroism A visit from an angel blares out the wisdom of follow your passion in A Passage for Trumpet The meaning of divided we fall is driven home with dramatic results when neighbors suspect neighbors of being invading aliens in The Monsters Are Due on Maple Street The old maxim about never judging a book by its cover is given a tasty twist when an alien tome is translated in To Serve Man

Gold Dust on the Air Molly A. Schneider, 2024-07-16 How mid century television anthologies reflected and shaped US values and identities

Remembering the Forgotten War Philip West, Suh Ji-moon, Donald Gregg, 2015-02-12 In contrast to the many books that use military diplomatic and historic language in analyzing the Korean War this book takes a cultural approach that emphasizes the human dimension of the war an approach that especially features Korean voices There are chapters on Korean art on the war translations into English of Korean poetry by Korean soldiers and American soldier poetry on the war There is a photographic essay on the war by combat journalist and Pulitzer Prize winning photographer Max Desfor Another chapter includes and analyzes songs on the Korean War Korean American and Chinese that illuminate the many complex memories of the war There is a discussion of Korean films on the war and a chapter on Korean War POWs and their contested memories More than any other nonfiction book on the war this one shows us the human face of tragedy for Americans Chinese and most especially Koreans June 2000 was the fiftieth anniversary of the outbreak of the Korean War this moving volume is intended as a commemoration of it America Noir David Cochran,2016-06-21 In America Noir David Cochran details how ten writers and filmmakers challenged the social pieties prevalent during the Cold War such as the superiority of the American democracy the benevolence of free enterprise and the sanctity of the suburban family Rod Serling's The Twilight Zone featured victims of vast faceless bureaucratic powers Jim Thompson's noir thrillers such as The Grifters portrayed the ravages of capitalism on those at the bottom of the social ladder Patricia Highsmith in The Talented Mr Ripley placed an amoral con man in an international setting implicitly questioning America's fitness as leader of the free world Charles Willeford's pulp novels such as Wild Wives and Woman Chaser depicted the family as a hotbed of violence and chaos These artists pioneered a detached ironic sensibility that radically juxtaposed cultural references and blurred the distinctions between high and low art Their refusal to surrender to the pressures for political conformity and their unflinching portrayal of the underside of American life paved the way for the emergence of a 1960s counterculture that forever changed the way America views itself In the Zone Peter Wolfe,1997 The Twilight Zone explores the possibilities inhering in the ordinary A Twilight Zone episode can move us by being poignant and intimate rambunctious or thought provoking It can also be orchestrated as a set of intertwined plot developments or as a serial progression But regardless of whether it takes place on an asteroid in a city pool room or in the backwoods it will usually convey both a folklorist's eye for detail and the born raconteur's sense of pace Rod Serling the show's founder main scriptwriter and artistic director knew how much burden he could place on his rhetorical and dramatic gifts Deservedly celebrated as a pioneer in TV science fiction he also writes about history and loyalty the grip of everyday reality and the dangers of both forgetting about one's ghosts and giving them the upper hand Monsters on Maple Street David J. Brokaw,2023-08-08 Post World War II America has often been mythologized by successive generations as an exceptional period of prosperity and comfort At a time when the Cold War was understood to be a battle of ideas as much as military prowess the entertainment business relied heavily on subtle psychological marketing to promote the idea of the American Dream The media of the 1950s and 1960s promoted an idealized version of American life sustained by the nuclear family and bolstered by a booming consumer economy The seemingly wholesome and simple lifestyles portrayed on television screens however belied a torrent of social economic and political struggles occurring at the time By the late 1950s television writers were increasingly constrained to distract audiences from confronting counternarratives to the Dream Among the programs that railed against this trend was Rod Serling's television masterpiece The Twilight Zone Now considered an enduring classic the allegorical nature of the show provides a window into the many overlooked issues that plagued Cold War America In Monsters on Maple Street The Twilight Zone and the Postwar American Dream David J Brokaw describes how the TV show reframed popular portrayals of white American wish fulfillments as nightmares rather than dreams Brokaw's close reading of the show's sociopolitical dimensions examines how the series creators successfully utilized science fiction horror and fantasy to challenge conventional thinking and avoid having their work censored around topics such as sexuality technology war labor and the workplace and white supremacy In doing so Brokaw helps us understand how the series exposed the underbelly of the American Dream and left indelible impressions in the minds of its viewers for decades to come

The Korean War Paul Edwards, 2003-01-09 This historical dictionary of the Korean War is designed to provide brief but helpful information about all aspects of the war including units involved the United Nations political and military actions significant sites and operations and weapons use

Rod Serling Nicholas Parisi, 2018-10-24 Long before anyone had heard of alien cookbooks gremlins on the wings of airplanes or places where pig faced people are considered beautiful Rod Serling was the most prestigious writer in American television As creator host and primary writer for The Twilight Zone Serling became something more an American icon When Serling died in 1975 at the age of fifty he was the most honored most outspoken most recognizable and likely the most prolific writer in television history Though best known for The Twilight Zone Serling wrote over 250 scripts for film and television and won an unmatched six Emmy Awards for dramatic writing for four different series His filmography includes the acclaimed political thriller Seven Days in May and cowriting the original Planet of the Apes In great detail and including never published insights drawn directly from Serling's personal correspondence unpublished writings speeches and unproduced scripts Nicholas Parisi explores Serling's entire massive body of work With a foreword by Serling's daughter Anne Serling Rod Serling His Life Work and Imagination is part biography part videography and part critical analysis It is a painstakingly researched look at all of Serling's work in and out of The Twilight Zone

The New Entrepreneurs Jon Kraszewski, 2011-02-01 According to the sociologist C Wright Mills in his 1951 book White Collar The American Middle Classes the new entrepreneur was a lone wolf able to succeed in post World War II corporate America by elusively meandering through various institutions During this time anthology writers such as Rod Serling Reginald Rose and Paddy Chayefsky achieved a level of creativity that has rarely been equaled on television since Yet despite their success anthology writers still needed to evade the constraints and censorship of 50s television in order to stay true to their creative powers and political visions Thus they worked as new entrepreneurs who adapted their more controversial scripts for the Hollywood Broadway and book publishing industries Even after the television networks cancelled their prestigious anthology series at the end of the 50s the most resilient writers were able to redefine what it meant to be entrepreneurs by launching cutting edge shows such as The Twilight Zone and The Defenders that are still popular today The New Entrepreneurs includes detailed textual analysis of legendary sometimes hard to find television anthology scripts that have received only cursory glances in television history until now Ebook Edition Note All images have been redacted

Therapeutic Revolutions Martin Halliwell, 2013-04-19 Therapeutic Revolutions examines the evolving relationship between American medicine psychiatry and culture from World War II to the dawn of the 1970s In this richly layered intellectual history Martin

Halliwell ranges from national politics public reports and healthcare debates to the ways in which film literature and the mass media provided cultural channels for shaping and challenging preconceptions about health and illness Beginning with a discussion of the profound impact of World War II and the Cold War on mental health Halliwell moves from the influence of work family and growing up in the Eisenhower years to the critique of institutional practice and the search for alternative therapeutic communities during the 1960s Blending a discussion of such influential postwar thinkers as Erich Fromm William Menninger Erving Goffman Erik Erikson and Herbert Marcuse with perceptive readings of a range of cultural text that illuminate mental health issues among them Spellbound Shock Corridor Revolutionary Road and I Never Promised You a Rose Garden this compelling study argues that the postwar therapeutic revolutions closely interlink contrasting discourses of authority and liberation

Contemporary Authors Terri M. Rooney, 1998-05 Your students and users will find biographical information on approximately 300 modern writers in this volume of Contemporary Authors Authors in this volume include Janet Dawson Patrice Gaines Isabella Rossellini Markus Wolf
