for motor insurance claims and ensure that insurers honour their commitment to reduce premiums The Government should consider requiring claimants to provide proof that they have either been seen by a doctor or attended A E shortly after the accident The MPs also note that their previous recommendation on making the links between insurers and other parties involved with claims more transparent has been ignored The absence of comprehensive statistics about road traffic accidents means that it is impossible to relate the increasing number of personal injury claims in recent years to the number of accidents Data collection about road accidents needs to be improved help to assist detection of fraudulent personal injury claims and help highways authorities improve road safety by targeting spending on accident black spots The Committee also supports the proposal for an accreditation scheme for medical practitioners who provide medical reports in relation to whiplash claims Access to justice could also be impaired by Government proposals to switch whiplash claims between 1 000 and 5 000 to the small claims court particularly for people who do not feel confident to represent themselves against insurers who will use legal professionals to contest claims Ways in which use of the small claims track could be combined with the routine submission of expert evidence should be considered

Human-Centred Economics Richard Samans,2023-12-02 This open access book examines the chronic underperformance of economies with respect to inclusion sustainability and resilience It finds that the standard liberal economic growth and development model has evolved over the past century in a fundamentally unbalanced manner that underemphasizes the crucial role of institutions legal norms policy incentives and public administrative capacities in translating market based growth in the production of goods and services into broad and sustainable gains in social welfare at the household level Correcting this imbalance of emphasis in economic theory and policy between markets and institutions production and distribution and national income and household living standards is the single most important step required to transcend 20th century trickle down neoliberalism and replace it with a more human centred model of economic progress in the 21st century The book breaks new ground by integrating the principal institutional dimensions of the social contract into the heart of macroeconomic theory and presenting extensive corresponding reforms of domestic and international economic policy to refocus them on the median living standards rather than primarily aggregate wealth or GDP of nations This is the bottom line measure of national economic performance and it depends on the strength of both markets of exchange and institutions in such areas as labour and social protection financial and corporate governance competition and rents anti corruption infrastructure and basic necessities environmental protection education and skilling etc Extensive comparative data are presented demonstrating that countries at every level of economic development have ample policy space to narrow their welfare gaps their underperformance on these and other key aspects of household living standards relative to the frontier of leading policy practice in peer countries
