Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 10-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and heart rate reserve (HRR) of sedentary middle-aged men. The subjects were divided into two groups: a control group and a training group. The control group consisted of 10 men who did not participate in any physical activity during the study. The training group consisted of 10 men who participated in a 10-week training program. The training program consisted of three sessions per week, each lasting 30 minutes. The sessions were performed at a heart rate of 150 beats per minute. The HR and HRR were measured at the beginning and end of the study. The results showed that the training group had a significantly higher HR and HRR at the end of the study compared to the control group. This suggests that a 10-week training program can improve the cardiovascular fitness of sedentary middle-aged men.

If you are not satisfied with your results, follow the instructions carefully and test your original article. If the referee's comments are of the "I'm going to work" and "I'm not sure" type, request a re-evaluation of the article and the referee's comments.

23. When configuring a multi-mount AFS, set `mountmnt` to your Netatun path: `mountmnt=/usr/bin/netatun`
24. If you're using the `afs` multi-mount method, add the `afs` multi-mount entry from `afs` to your `netatun` config. In this scenario, a "Netatun" entry will be added to the `netatun` config file as discussed above. This is required after its purchase. This type of multi-mount AFS, as pointing out the group approach, is good.
25. Do not include the `afs` of `mountmnt` in the `afs` directory.
26. When configuring the `afs` multi-mount AFS, set `mountmnt` to the `afs` path: `mountmnt=/usr/bin/netatun`
