The Civil Rights Movement

The Civil Rights Movement is known as a period of time in the 1950s and 1960s that really began about 100 years earlier, after the American Civil War. The Civil Rights Movement occurred because of the desire for racial equality after the end of slavery in America.

After the Civil War, the American South was a very racist place. There were many segregation laws, which meant people were kept separate. There were segregation laws for schools and where people could sit on a bus or in a restaurant. There were laws that said that people could not marry someone of a different race.

One of the first things that happened was that people started to go to school with people of a different race. This was called desegregation. It was a big step towards equality.

There were many other things that happened during the Civil Rights Movement, like the March on Washington and the Selma to Montgomery march. These were all important events in the fight for equality.
