2012 GCSE English results Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee, 2013-06-11 The 2012 GCSE English results prompted significant controversy which ultimately resulted in an application for judicial review This report sets out the background to these events and identifies lessons to be learned The problems with GCSE English can be traced back to the 2007 09 development phase of the qualification in particular the turbulence which resulted from the shift away from a mostly linear to a modular system combined with a high proportion of controlled assessment and generous marking tolerances Exam board experts raised concerns at the time but these were not acted upon by the regulator the then interim Ofqual Further difficulties arose because of pressures from the school accountability system The problems experienced with GCSE English in 2012 highlighted serious weaknesses in the moderation of speaking and listening with consequences for grade awarding The current status of Ofqual as an independent regulator accountable to Parliament is the right one However the Coalition Government is bringing in wholesale changes to GCSEs and A levels to a tight timetable and at the same time Ofqual must have systems in place The Committee is also concerned that there is a rush towards separate exam systems for England Wales and Northern Ireland without careful reflection on what might be lost or consensus that this is the right thing to do

Reiss, 2019-09-20 This book reports on a study on physics problem solving in real classrooms situations Problem solving plays a pivotal role in the physics curriculum at all levels However physics students performance in problem solving all too often remains limited to basic routine problems with evidence of poor performance in solving problems that go beyond equation retrieval and substitution Adopting an action research methodology the study bridges the research practical divide by explicitly teaching physics problem solving strategies through collaborative group problem solving sessions embedded within the curriculum Data were collected using external assessments and video recordings of individual and collaborative group problem solving sessions by 16 18 year olds The analysis revealed a positive shift in the students problem solving patterns both at group and individual level Students demonstrated a deliberate well planned deployment of the taught strategies The marked positive shifts in collaborative competences cognitive competences metacognitive processing and increased self efficacy are positively correlated with attainment in problem solving in physics However this shift proved to be due to different mechanisms triggered in the different students
