Poetic Devices

Poems use imaginative language to express a person's feelings and ideas. There are many different devices and techniques of poetry that can be used.

Onomatopoeia

Simile

Personification

Alliteration

alliteration

Alliteration is the repetition of the same initial letter, sound, or group of sounds in a series of words.

personification

Personification is when you give human qualities and human characteristics to an object, an animal or idea.

The flame of the candle danced gracefully in the dark.

metaphor

Metaphors are words or phrases that help us describe something. A metaphor states that one thing is something else.

The paintbrush was a magic wand in her hand as she painted the picture.

hyperbole

A hyperbole is an exaggeration that is so dramatic that no one would believe the statement is true.

The teacher was so hungry she could have eaten a horse.

rhythm

Some poems follow a certain pattern. These poems have rules for the amount of lines or stressed syllables to use.

*It - was - such - a - beau - ti - ful - day
We - ate - our - lunch - by - the - ri - ver.*

Looking closely at what happens when translanguaging is actively taken up to teach emergent bilingual students across different contexts this book focuses on how it is already happening in classrooms as well as how it can be implemented as a pedagogical orientation It extends theoretical understandings of the concept and highlights its promises and challenges Using a Transformative Action Research design six empirically grounded ethnographic case studies describe how translanguaging is used in lesson designs and in the spontaneous moves made by teachers and students during specific teaching moments The cases shed light on two questions How when and why is translanguaging taken up or resisted by students and teachers What does its use mean for them Although grounded in a U S context and specifically in classrooms in New York State Translanguaging with Multilingual Students links findings and theories to different global contexts to offer important lessons for educators worldwide      The Private World of Surimono Sadako Ohki, 2020-04-07

A detailed look at a genre that combines virtuoso printmaking techniques sophisticated imagery and engaging playful poetry This beautiful volume celebrates the tradition of the Japanese surimono print Produced from around 1800 until 1840 during the Edo period surimono printed things in Japanese combine intricate artwork and playful poetry and their small print runs and exclusive audiences allowed for lavish yet subtle surface treatments such as embossing and gilding. Enjoyed for their learned allusions to literature and contemporary culture, surimono continue to delight and perplex scholars with their visual puns and wordplay. Imagery ranges from delicate domestic still lifes to spirited vignettes of the natural world while the poems are often lighthearted takes on the classical Japanese waka form. With its rich text and scholarly apparatus including names and titles in kanji characters as well as transliterations and translations of the poems on the catalogued prints, The Private World of Surimono serves as a critical resource for scholars of Japanese art and history and offers general readers insight into this rare and innovative print form.

Real Toads, Imaginary Gardens Paisley Rekdal, 2024-10-22 An innovative and accessible guide to writing and reading poetry by an acclaimed poet and beloved professor of poetry. What makes reading a poem unlike reading anything else? In Real Toads Imaginary Gardens, acclaimed poet and teacher Paisley Rekdal demonstrates how to observe the building blocks of a poem including its diction, form, imagery, and rhythm, and construct an interpretation of its meaning. Using guided close readings and nearly 40 creative and critical experiments, this book shows how a poem takes shape through the intersection of all its lyric elements. Drawing on the work of poets from William Shakespeare to Jericho Brown, Real Toads Imaginary Gardens reveals how to read and write critically and how to appreciate and achieve the exhilarating craft of poetry.

The Romantic Fragment Poem Marjorie Levinson, 2017-11-01 The fragment poem, long regarded as a peculiarly Romantic phenomenon, has never been examined outside the context of thematic and biographical criticism. By submitting the unfinished poems of the English Romantics to both a genetic investigation and a reception study, Marjorie Levinson defines the fragment's formal character at various moments in its historical career. She suggests that the formal determinancy of these works, hence their expressive or semantic affinities, is a function of historical conditions and projections. The English Romantic fragment poems share not so much a particular mode of production as a myth of production. Levinson pries apart these two dimensions and analyzes each independently to consider their relationship. By reconstructing the contemporary reception of such works as Wordsworth's Nutting, Coleridge's Christabel, and Shelley's Julian and Maddalo, and Keats's Hyperion fragments, and juxtaposing this model against dominant twentieth-century critical paradigms, Levinson discriminates layers, phases, and kinds of intentionality in the poems and considers the ideological implications of this diversity. This study is the first to investigate the English Romantic fragment poem by identifying the assumptions, contemporary and belated, that govern interpretative procedures. In a substantial summary chapter, Levinson reflects upon the meaning and effects of these assumptions with respect to the facts and fictions of literary production in the period and to the processes of canon formation.
