English Church Dedications Nicholas Orme, 1996 Church dedications are as widely used as they are little studied yet their histories are often obscure and complicated Frequently forgotten after the Reformation they were revived on the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries with many guesses and mistakes resulting in numerous alterations Church history cannot safely be based on the dedication in use today Part One of the book surveys their history in England from Roman times to the present day Part Two is a detailed list of all 800 ancient parish churches and religious houses in Cornwall and Devon It shows when their dedications first occur the changes and misunderstandings that have happened and the dates of parish feast days Cornwall is a country of Celtic church dedication whilst Devon's resemble this of the rest of England so the book will be helpful in understanding dedications in both traditions The Lives of the Primitive Fathers, Martyrs, and Other Principal Saints Alban Butler, 1798 *The Lives of the Primitive Fathers, Martyrs, and Other Principal Saints... by the Rev. Cyclopedia of Biblical, Theological, and Ecclesiastical Literature John McClintock, 1885 Trelawny's Cornwall Petroc Trelawny, 2024-08-15 It would be hard to think of a more thoroughly Cornish name than Petroc Trelawny His first name is shared with one of Cornwall's most celebrated saints his second is the name of its unofficial national anthem But when a stranger challenges the Radio 3 presenter on his ancestry he is inspired to return to the lands of his boyhood to rediscover the place where he grew up and attempt to confirm if he still belongs there Part history part memoir this is a deeply felt exploration of Cornwall past present and future Petroc embarks on a slow journey that sees him visit old mine workings ancient churches sites where new technology was forged and places where poets musicians architects and film makers have worked to shape Cornwall's cultural identity. He explores the Tamar, the river that marks out the Cornish frontier and holds a finger up to winds of change, exploring the collapse of Methodism, the decline of the Cornish language and the complex, sometimes lucrative, sometimes destructive relationship with tourism. As he travels by road, rail and foot, he conjures marvellously vivid figures and scenes from memory, telling the stories of a loving family full of mysteries and a landscape still redolent of Cornish otherness. The Ancient Cathedral of Cornwall Historically Surveyed John Whitaker, 1804

Landscapes Beyond Land Arnar Árnason, Nicolas Ellison, Jo Vergunst, Andrew Whitehouse, 2012-09-01. Land is embedded in a multitude of material and cultural contexts through which the human experience of landscape emerges. Ethnographers with their participative methodologies, long-term co-residence and concern with the quotidian aspects of the places where they work, are well positioned to describe landscapes in this fullest of senses. The contributors explore how landscapes become known primarily through movement and journeying rather than stasis. Working across four continents, they explain how landscapes are constituted and recollected in the stories people tell of their journeys through them and how in turn these stories are embedded in landscaped forms. Cyclopædia of Biblical, Theological, and Ecclesiastical Literature John McClintock, James Strong, 1890 Excursions in the County of Cornwall Frederick Wilton Litchfield Stockdale, 1824 Discovering English Churches Richard Foster, 1982. An interestingly written, handsome and well-produced illustrated book of religious, social and architectural history. The lives of the fathers, martyrs, and other principal saints; compiled from original monuments, and other authentic records; illustrated with the remarks of judicious modern critics and historians Alban Butler,
