

CRITICAL REVIEW ESSAY

SENIOR EXIT PROJECT COSMETOLOGY

Objective: To write a critical review essay and Reference List (using standard APA style) from multiple sources.

Assignment: Read the three articles: "Warning: what your shampoo's label won't tell you..." "Poisonous chemicals in skin and hair products," and "Study links some hair dyes to kind of cancer."

After reading the articles, write a critical review essay that includes the following:

- A summary of the three articles and how they are related, what you have learned that you will apply in the practice of your salon,
- Your opinion about the use of dyes and chemicals in hair services,
- How you will use the information in the articles in your work with clients,
- Research one or two of the products that you plan to use and see if any of the ingredients discussed in the articles are present in the products you have chosen for your salon.

For Extra Credit: You may find and read another article that is related (cancer from salon products, ingredients in salon products, or toxic products used in salons) to obtain extra credit. The extra credit possible is up to 10 points.

Suggested Outline: Your essay should cover the following sections.

Part I: Write an introduction discussing what the essay will cover, the title of the articles read, and the purpose of the essay.

Part II. Summarize the three articles. Show that you know the content and what is important. You need to write about at least 5 toxic ingredients, what they do and where they are usually found. Show the relationship between the articles, not just summarizing the articles separately. Write your summary in your own words, not just cutting and pasting what is said in the articles.
