SDGP Lesson Plan: 4th Grade Science
Lesson Preparation:	Since I am a pre-service teacher, I will be creating a lesson plan. Learning Content: Description of the Class: My classroom contains 23 fourth-grade students. They are learning science/management within the 4th grade unit. The English proficiency levels range from Level 1 to Emerging 2. Emerging 2 is Level 4 depending for all three of the language domains: listening, speaking, reading, and writing. There are 14 girls and 9 boys of which one of my students is bilingual and speaks fluently in both English and Spanish. Seven students speak Portuguese as their first language, four students speak French as their first language, two students speak German as their first language, and the rest are either English speakers. Sequence of Learning:

Learning Phase	Instructional Preparation	Type of Instruction	Teacher Description	Facilitation Question
Engage Students write in response that subjects without kinds of materials stick to magnets and what kind of materials are most stick to magnets.	Write down the following questions on the board: - How do magnets stick to materials? - What materials stick to magnets? - What materials do not stick to magnets?	Teacher-student	Students will first discuss in pairs or groups magnets, magnets and non-magnetic materials. Then, I will have a group discussion with the students about what magnets stick to and what not to stick to the magnet. Students will be able to talk to themselves and write their conclusions.	What subjects stick to the magnets? What did you make about the materials that stick to magnets? What did the students make the students stick to magnets? What subjects are magnets?
