

Autobiographical Sketch

December 18, 2000, marks the day, I was gifted with life and the with the opportunity to leave my mark on society and with this, the desire to become a doctor did nothing but bloom. Growing up, I've always been fascinated with the wonders of life, and furthermore, science. Simple things, such as dressing a cut, or medication and lifestyle choices in order to battle illnesses interested me, to studying cells and different organisms.

I personally have never been a sickly child growing up, however I knew and was around many persons with a variety of ailments, so that is a factor in my drive to take on the profession of a doctor. A lot of deaths around me were due to sickness, and that has always left me wishing I could one day, help persons in those same situations, have a better end result. I've understood that my dad has had various illnesses. He's had a hole in his heart which had him in the hospital for a long while. Afterwards, there was another situation, in which he got extremely sick and was on the brink of death he had a near death experience, and the main cause of that still remains unknown. It's situations like this that has driven me to take on this journey towards indulging in a profession the medical field.

From a time, I can remember, I've always dreamed of becoming a doctor, and not once, through traversing infant, primary and high school, has that ever wavered or changed; it has only grown and evolved. I remember when I was very young, and asked what I wanted to become, and my only reply was "a doctor," and even afterwards when I've been asked that question, the answer, even varied, has remained the same. When I matriculated to high school, in my years from grade 7-9, the work I put in was solely to get a spot in the 10 science and technology core group, and beyond, and I was successful in doing so and doing my courses in that field right up until 6th form. In doing this course, my fascination in the sciences flourished, in participation in numerous experimental exercises. The Herbert Morrison Technical High School has gifted me with a vast area of knowledge that has helped me thus far in achieving my goal, and I am interested in your institution as I know I will be able to do greater development and achieve my goal there. The desire to pursue the medical profession has become potent need that I feel designated to fulfill, and that desire increases daily, hence it is something I'm determined to achieve one way or the other.

Proletarian Imagination Mark D. Steinberg, 2018-05-31 In fin de siècle and early revolutionary Russia a group of self educated workers produced a large body of poetry and prose in which they attempted to comprehend their rapidly changing world Witnesses to wars and revolution these men and women grappled on paper with the nature of civilization and the imperatives of ethical truth In a strikingly original approach to Russian culture Mark D Steinberg listens to their words which are little known today The results of their literary creativity he finds were frequently not what the new Soviet order was expecting from its workers despite its celebration of the notion of a proletarian art Through insightful readings of a vast fund of lower class writings Steinberg shows that the authors focused above all on the uncertain nature and place of the self the promise and dangers of modernity and the qualities of the sacred in both their lives and their imaginations Like their counterparts in the intelligentsia these worker writers were ambivalent about Marxist ideology s celebration of the city and the factory and even about modern progress itself Drawing on vast research Steinberg demonstrates the texts significance for an understanding of Russian popular mentalities indeed for the very meaning philosophically and morally of these years of crisis and possibility at the end of the old order and the early years of the Soviet regime
