Sequential Activation Trigger (also known as restrictive trigger or trigger line) operates in the following sequence - depress the safety element at the nose of tool against the work surface then pull the trigger. After each fastener is driven, release the trigger and lift the tool off the work surface before starting the sequence again. This trigger is recommended and acceptable for most applications.

Contact Activation Trigger (also known as dual action, bounce or bottom line) operates in the following sequence - pull the trigger first and keep the trigger pulled while moving the tool along the work surface with a bouncing motion, depressing the safety element at the nose of the tool against the work surface where the fastener is to be driven. This trigger is recommended for use by trained professionals only in high production or volume applications.
